REPORT OF
THE ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE
STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

FOR THE PERIOD JANUARY 1, 1947—DECEMBER 31, 1949

To: His Excellency, The Governor of North Carolina and Commander-in-Chief of the State Military Forces. Executive Office, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Sir: Submitted herein is a report of the operations of The Adjutant General's Department for the years 1947, 1948, and 1949.

REORGANIZATION OF THE NATIONAL GUARD

Several units of the North Carolina State Guard having been deactivated during the year 1946, the remaining units were deactivated under State Guard General Orders No. 6, this Department, 30 June 1947, which orders disbanded the State Guard. The first unit of the reorganized National Guard to be Federally recognized was the 94th Army Ground Forces Band. This unit organized with station Raleigh, was federally recognized 24 February 1947. The second unit was Battery A, 677th Anti-Aircraft Automatic Weapons Battalion, Federally recognized at Raeford 10 March 1947. After several conferences and correspondence with the City of Charlotte, which City secured Morris Field from the Government, a contract was made for the use of certain buildings and areas and the run-ways by the National Guard. Through the assistance of Colonel Paul R. Younts of Charlotte, Lt. Colonel William J. Payne, a pilot of World War 2, was appointed to organize and command our 156th Fighter Squadron, Air National Guard. The Squadron, station Morris Field, Charlotte, North Carolina, was Federally recognized 15 March 1948. The 118th Aircraft Control & Warning Squadron, station Morris Field, Charlotte, North Carolina, was recognized 10 August 1948.

LICENSES AND SERVICE CONTRACTS WITH THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

Bluethenthal Field, Wilmington, North Carolina

The Division Engineers, South Atlantic Division, granted the State Right of Entry to certain area and buildings, Bluethenthal Field, Wilmington, in letter 15 November 1946, pending execution of a formal license. The formal license was executed 20 August 1947.

A service Contract was entered into between the National Guard Bureau, Department of the Army, and the Adjutant General's Department, North Carolina, 17 January 1949. Under this contract certain expenses for maintenance and operation of the premises were provided for at a cost, to be paid, 75 percent Federal and 25 percent State.

Morris Field, Charlotte, North Carolina

The Secretary of the Army granted license to North Carolina for certain facilities under date 1 April 1948.

A contract covering occupancy, use of certain facilities, upkeep and repairs was executed between the State and Federal Government. The Federal Government to pay 75 percent and the State 25 percent: the total cost 1948, to both, not to exceed $25,000. Under date of 1 July 1947, a contract was entered into between the State and City of Charlotte. The City to furnish certain upkeep of the premises occupied by the Air National Guard at a cost of $700 per month to the State. Under this contract the Federal Government pays 75 percent and the State 25 percent.

Camp Butner, North Carolina

There being no suitable facilities for the storage of Federal equipment, issued the State for the National Guard, available in Raleigh, an area with seven buildings was secured at Camp Butner. This property was licensed by the Federal Government to the State 14 May 1948. A Service Contract, similar to those for Bluethenthal Field and Morris Field, was executed 22 December 1947.

The license for Butner was later amended to provide an area for use as a Rifle Range.

Federal property under supervision of Colonel M. H. Austell, The United States Property and Disbursing Officer, is now stored at and issued the units from the warehouses at Butner.

Maintenance shops for repair of Federal equipment, under supervision of Lt. Colonel John Foreman, State Maintenance Officer, are located at Butner.

STORAGE BUILDINGS

The Federal Government has provided funds to the State for construction of buildings for storage of heavy equipment, such as Guns, Tractors, Motor Vehicles and Tanks. The local community in which these buildings have been placed has deeded to the State suitable land. Funds for these buildings were made available in 1947. In the fiscal year July 1, 1947—June 30, 1948 nine (9) buildings were contracted for at a cost of $242,363, and for the period July 1, 1948—June 30, 1949, eighteen (18) buildings were contracted for at a cost of $437,256.69; total twenty-seven (27) buildings constructed with Federal funds amounting to $679,619.69. These buildings were provided those units having a larger amount of heavy equipment and those with inadequate armory storage facilities, as follows:

Asheville	Roxboro	Jacksonville
Hickory	Tarboro	Elizabeth City
High Point	Warsaw	Mount Airy
Kings Mountain	Youngsville	North Wilkesboro
Lincolnton	Asheboro	Spindale
Mocksville	Clinton	Statesville
Newton	Durham	Wilmington
Raleigh	Forest City	Scotland Neck
Red Springs	Goldsboro	Lenoir

ARMORIES

Not much may be said about armories. There are about 28 armories throughout the State built with WPA funds augmented by a contribution toward construction by the respective communities, which communities furnished the land on which built, around 1937-1938, and a very few other buildings which may be termed armories are occupied by our troops. Other units of the Guard are quartered in many types of buildings not at all adequate for armory purposes. The National Guard Association of the United States is still in hopes of securing passage of a bill in the United States Congress to provide Federal aid to the states in armory construction.

STATE ARMORY COMMISSION

Through efforts made by The Adjutant General and the concurrence of the Governor, R. Gregg Cherry, the General Assembly of 1947 enacted into law a bill creating the North Carolina Armory Commission. The bill provided that the Commission be composed of the Governor as chairman, the Attorney General, The Adjutant General and two Federally recognized officers of the National Guard to be appointed by the Governor. It empowered the Commission to develop adequate armories and other facilities for housing, training and administration of the units of the Guard and to accept for the State deeds to properties, contributions of funds from municipalities, towns, counties and the Federal Government for the National Guard.

APPROPRIATIONS

The General Assembly 1947 appropriated $100,000 for each year of the biennium to be expended by the Armory Commission, in carrying out the act which established the Commission. There being doubt that the appropriations made to the Armory Commission could, under existing laws, be maintained as an armory fund, and not turned into the General Fund at the expiration of the biennium, the 1949 Session of the General Assembly enacted into law H.B. No. 217 amending Chapters 1064 and 1010 of the Session Laws of 1947, providing that the appropriation of funds by this act shall not lapse at the end of the biennium, but any funds unexpended at the end of the biennium shall constitute a permanent fund, and further the unexpended portion of any appropriation made for the purpose of this act, shall constitute part of a permanent fund to be expended for the purpose set out in this act.

The appropriation made by the General Assembly to The Adjutant General's Department for the National Guard, for the years 1947-1950, as based upon our budget request has been satisfactory. Since the National Guard was in initial stages of reorganization following World War II, it was difficult to make a fair estimate of the needs of the department for these years. It could not be determined as to the rapidity of organizing new units nor the increase in officer personnel, nor the travel necessary; hence, it develops that in some of the items of our budget request presented for the biennium 1949-1950 we fell short in our estimate.

AMENDMENTS TO MILITARY LAWS

Following are some of the more outstanding acts of the General Assembly, amending certain sections of the State Military Laws:

1949 Session:—Changed the minimum age limit for enlistment from 18 years to 17 years, to conform to Federal Laws; Courts Martial Law amended to conform to the National Defense Act; Section relating to annual allotment to organizations amended to provide $1500 in lieu of $600 per year; authorizing the rank of Major-General for The State Adjutant General.

EMPLOYEES PAID FROM FEDERAL FUNDS

The Congress has authorized funds for the National Guard, to provide salaries and wages, for the United States Property and Disbursing Officer, State Maintenance Officer, and their clerical assistants, mechanics, State Maintenance Shops at Butner, mechanics or caretakers for the 100 or more units of the Guard at their respective home stations and also have provided for an Administrative Assistant for the Division, Regimental, Battalion commanders and to units of company size. This was done to relieve these commanders of the details and paper work incident to their respective commands. Details affecting employees and pay are noted in the report of the United States Property and Disbursing Officer. The State is therefore relieved of an expenditure as of former years and a much needed additional assistance is provided the Guard.

STRENGTH OF THE NATIONAL GUARD

Though the allotment of approximately 13,000 troops was made to North Carolina, the Congress has not provided, from year to year, funds necessary to maintain this number. Since the beginning of reorganization the North Carolina National Guard, including Army and Air, has acquired a strength, as of December 1949, of 7286 officers and enlisted men.

SERVICE SCHOOLS

Pursuant to authority of the Army and Air Departments the following number of officers and enlisted men of our Guard have been afforded the opportunity and have attended Service Schools:

Year 1947.....	6
1948.....	85
1949.....	237

These schools include training in Infantry, Artillery, Anti-Aircraft Artillery, Engineering, Cooking, Mess Management, Auto Mechanics, Airplane Mechanics, Radar, Radio Repair and Operation, Command and Staff School and other valuable subjects.

CAMPS OF INSTRUCTION

As the Guard was not sufficiently organized in 1947, no Camp of Instruction was held in 1947. The North Carolina part of the 30th Infantry Division, the separate Battalions of Field Artillery and the separate Battalions of Engineers encamped at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, in 1948. The troops of the Anti-Aircraft Battalions went to Camp Stewart, Georgia. In 1949 the entire 30th Infantry Division, including Tennessee and separate Battalions of Field Artillery and Engineers were ordered to Fort Jackson, South Carolina and the Anti-Aircraft Battalions again had field training at Camp Stewart, Georgia. The Selective Service Section of State Headquarters trained at Selective Service Headquarters, Raleigh, North Carolina. All camps were most successful and much was accomplished in the training.

Units of the Guard have held, at times, week-end camps and have also had training on the Rifle Range.

SPECIAL DUTY

Troops have been ordered on special duty only twice within the three years of this report. Under Special Orders No. 180-A, 1 March 1949, Lt. Colonel Payne, Commanding 156th Fighter Squadron, Air National Guard, was ordered with a few men of his command, to Peachland, Anson County, to assist in controlling a fire in a large and old sawdust and shavings pile which threatened the community. In addition to the Pumper furnished by his Squadron, Pumpers and Hose were borrowed from Charlotte, Raleigh, the Highway Commission, Concord, Greensboro, High Point, Durham, Wadesboro and Hamlet to connect with a creek, about a mile's distance, the only source of water supply. The City of Charlotte deserves commendation for the loan of their Assistant Fire Chief who worked diligently in directing the operations.

Under our Special Orders No. 508, 14 June 1949, the 30th Signal Company, station Canton, North Carolina, was ordered on duty to assist with motor equipment and men in removing citizens and their belongings from an area flooded by waters of the Pigeon River. This was only a two day period of duty.

INAUGURATION OF THE GOVERNOR

On 6 January 1949 a large number of units of the National Guard came into Raleigh to take part in the ceremonies incident to the inauguration of the Honorable W. Kerr Scott as Governor of North Carolina. These units were not under official orders but made the trip from their respective home stations at their own expense and the officers and men came voluntarily and with no remuneration. The Inaugural Committee appointed from the Senate and House, provided a midday meal for the men. The 94th Army Ground Forces Band, National Guard, Raleigh, North Carolina was also in the parade. In addition to the National Guard, the Commanding General, Third Army, Headquarters, Fort McPherson, Georgia and the Commanding General, Fort Bragg who have always cooperated with us on many occasions, provided the 3rd Battalion, 504th Airborne Division, Battery A, 376th Airborne Field Artillery Battalion and the 82nd Airborne Division Band. The Cadet Corps, ROTC State College and Band took part as always. We also had a number of High School and other bands and the Cadet Corps, Edwards Military Academy. In all, the military display was very effective. Major General John Hall Manning, Commanding General 30th Division, was the Chief Marshal and with a corps of officers to assist him organized the military formation at the mansion in the morning, the march to and formation at the Auditorium, where the General Assembly was in session and where the Inauguration of the Governor took place and other elected officials of the State were administered the Oath of Office.

ARMY AND AIR INSTRUCTORS AND ADVISORS

The Instructor personnel, both officers and sergeants, detailed by the Army and Air Forces to supervise and assist in the organization, maintenance and instruction of the North Carolina National Guard have not only been most efficient, but have shown a great interest in the development of the National Guard. They have been courteous, patient and cordial in their contact with the officers and enlisted men of the Guard, most cooperative and willing to help in every manner. The Senior Instructor and his corps of non-commissioned personnel, with offices in the Adjutant General's Department, have been those of the highest type, efficient and of particular assistance to The Adjutant General and his staff. They have been most cooperative and shown a willingness to be of assistance, even on matters beyond their normal functions. Warrant Officer Joseph T. Shurling who has been with the Senior Instructor since the original assignment of Instructor personnel, following World War II, is to be commended for his efficiency in the operation of the Senior Instructor's office and for his courteous, cordial and friendly helpfulness to those of this department.

THE UNITED STATES PROPERTY AND DISBURSING OFFICER

Colonel Michael H. Austell, who for many years has been on duty in the United States Property and Disbursing Office, succeeded Colonel Gordon Smith upon his retirement for physical disability 2 October 1947. Colonel Smith had served as the United States Property and Disbursing Officer since 19 July 1919 and was recognized as one of the most efficient officers, of those of the states, in this important work. Colonel Smith served throughout World War II as Procurement Officer, Selective Service, North Carolina. It was indeed fortunate that an officer of Colonel Austell's training and ability was available to assume the duties of this position for North Carolina. Colonel Austell has performed his duties most efficiently and to the full satisfaction of the Department of the Army and The State Adjutant General. I wish to express appreciation for his services rendered with courtesy and pleasantly, and for his full cooperation with me and my staff in all matters.

STAFF AND EMPLOYEES

THE ADJUTANT GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT

Excepting the employees of the United States Property and Disbursing Officer's section, the staff and employees operating directly under the direction of The Adjutant General are paid from State funds. Prior to World War II there were four employees in this section. Today, due to the increase in the number of organizations and personnel of the National Guard and thereby additional requirements of the National Guard Bureau, Department of the Army, in administration and training and added equipment, necessarily the staff has been increased. There are now, in this department, four staff officers and two men employees operating our message center at the Arsenal on Caswell Square, where Department of the Army forms, training regulations and other heavy mail is received and distributed to units of the Guard throughout the State. There are ten young ladies as clerical assistants and a janitor and mailman—total seventeen. The volume of work requires the full activities of all and yet the department is not in position to accomplish much so necessary to full efficiency. There has been no Assistant Adjutant General since the retirement of Colonel Gordon Smith in 1947.

The staff and all employees are to be commended for their loyalty and faithfulness to their work.

General J. Van B. Metts
Adjutant General
Raleigh, N. C.

Sir:

We have made an examination of the accounts and records of the

DEPARTMENT OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL
RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1949 and submit herewith our report consisting of one Exhibit and four Schedules, which we believe to be self-explanatory.

Our audit consisted primarily of an examination of the Disbursement Records. We found all expenditures were evidenced by properly executed checks on which the endorsements appeared proper.

The cash balance at June 30, 1949 was reconciled with the records of the State Treasurer and found in agreement. We inspected a representative number of invoices, pay rolls and other data supporting disbursements, all of which appeared in order and properly classified.

We wish to express our appreciation for the cooperation and courtesies extended us by the personnel of the Department during the course of this assignment.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY L. BRIDGES, State Auditor

REPORT OF U. S. PROPERTY AND DISBURSING OFFICER

SUBJECT: Report of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer for North Carolina

TO: The Adjutant General
State of North Carolina
Raleigh, North Carolina

1. Report of the United States Property and Disbursing Officer for the period 2 April 1947 to 31 December 1949 is hereby submitted.

2. Colonel Gordon Smith, the Acting U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer for North Carolina, being sick in the hospital, I was detailed on a temporary basis, in addition to my other duties, Acting U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer for North Carolina by War Department Order dated 2 April 1947. Colonel Smith was retired for physical disability and on 15 August 1947, by Par. 10, War Department Special Orders No. 161, I was assigned Acting U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer for North Carolina (title Acting U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer being used on account of the fact that the position is being filled by an officer on active duty in the Army). During the period covered by this report, this office has performed the following functions required by law and regulations:

- a. Maintained accountable property records for all technical services property received, issued, and returned to the Department of the Army and Department of the Air Force.
- b. Requisitioned and issued to units all Army and Air Force property and supplies available.
- c. Performed duties of Transportation Officer for Army and Air National Guard.
- d. Performed all duties as Purchase and Contract Officer where Federal funds were used.
- e. Performed all duties as Budget and Fiscal Officer, Army and Air National Guard, for expenditures of Federal funds.

When I assumed the duties of U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer, an office had been set up and it was partially staffed. A distribution warehouse had been opened at 316 East Lenoir Street and 2,000 sets of clothing and individual equipment and some office furniture and other equipment had been received.

3. In April, 1947, the following were employed:
- | | |
|--|---|
| Office of the USP & DO—Accounting Employees..... | 5 |
| Warehouse—Custodial Employees | 2 |

Two units had been organized and Federally recognized. During the year 1947, 59 units were organized and Federally recognized. All clothing and individual equipment for these units was furnished by distribution warehouse. When time for the 1947 Field Training Camps came, only two or three units were eligible under the criteria prescribed by the National Guard

Bureau to attend. Therefore, it was determined that no units would attend summer camp that year. Lt. Colonel John Foreman was employed as State Maintenance Officer on 14 March 1947. He immediately began looking for a suitable facility within the State where a State Maintenance installation as prescribed by the National Guard Bureau Maintenance Plan could be set up. Several possibilities were considered and eventually seven large MRS shop buildings and suitable grounds were secured at Camp Butner, North Carolina, from the War Department on a revokable permit. At this location a Maintenance Shop was opened in September, 1947. During the Fiscal Year 1947, Federal funds in support of the National Guard Program in this State were expended as follows:

Army National Guard—$18,927.16 (Does not include payments to personnel for Armory drill).
Air National Guard—0 (No units organized).

4. During the Calendar Year 1948, 23 additional Army units and 5 Air units were organized and recognized. These units were partially equipped and during the summer of 1948 all attended Field Training, this 1948 Field Training Camp being the first held since World War II. While all units were not completely equipped and were not fully trained, all camps were considered highly satisfactory. All during the year much needed equipment for the units was received. From 1 July 1947 to 30 June 1948, 6,600 property vouchers indicating the receipt and issue of property were processed. In 1948 the National Guard Bureau authorized the employment of Administrative Assistants for Unit Commanders. This program practically doubled the number of full-time employees of the National Guard. During this year it was determined that the distribution warehouse located on East Lenoir Street was inadequate for the size operation that it would be required to perform. Therefore, it was moved immediately after summer camp in 1948 to the facility at Camp Butner. Federal expenditures for Fiscal Year 1948 were:

Army National Guard.....	$529,834.56
Air National Guard.....	44,655.65
Total	$574,490.21

(Payments for Armory drills not included in the above.)

5. The activities of this office during the Calendar Year 1949 were similar to those in 1948 with the additional work load caused by the formation of 13 additional units. At the close of Calendar Year 1949, there were 95 Army units and 5 Air units, making a total of 100 units. The expenditures from Federal funds for the year 1949 were as follows:

Army National Guard.....	$1,386,114.49
Air National Guard.....	342,389.60
Total	$1,728,504.09

(Armory drill payments to personnel not included in above.)

At the end of Calendar Year 1949, the Federal Government authorized full-time personnel to assist the State in carrying out the National Guard Program as follows:

Activity	No. Employees	Annual Salary
Office & Warehouse USP & DO.....	31	$ 95,621.28
State Maintenance Pool.....	37	104,863.68
Unit Caretakers	95	224,471.04
Administrative Assistants	98	291,723.36
Air Technicians	68	213,743.40
Total.....		$930,422.76

CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

6. During the Fiscal Year 1948, nine motor vehicle storage buildings were constructed on State owned or State leased land with Federal funds at a cost of $242,363.00. In the Fiscal Year 1949, eighteen buildings were constructed at a cost of $437,256.69. While these buildings were built for the storage of vehicles and heavy equipment, the majority of the units to which the buildings were assigned are using them for Armories. These buildings were all for Army units. In 1948 repairs and incidental construction for Army National Guard were as follows:

Repairs and painting of seven buildings at Camp Butner	$39,585.00
Reconstruction of an oil house at Camp Butner.....	1,839.00
Construction of a chain link security type fence at Camp Butner.....	5,241.00
Repair of buildings and construction of a security type fence at Bluethenthal Air Field (for use of Anti-Aircraft units, Wilmington, North Carolina)	33,153.00
Repairs to Rifle Range, Camp Butner.....	1,630.00
Total.....	$81,448.00

Repairs for Air National Guard during 1948 were as follows:

Repairs and painting of hangar at Morris Field.....	$ 5,375.00
---	-------------

During the Fiscal Year 1949, no repairs were made for Army installations. However, security type chain link fencing of the value of $32,895.00 was purchased for issue to Army units.

Air National Guard, 1949:

Repairs to heating system in the hangar, Morris
Field	$12,625.00
Repairs to three buildings, Morris Field.....	11,653.00
Repairs to aqua system, Morris Field.....	4,405.00
Construction of a security type chain link fence,
Morris Field	6,322.00
Total.....	$35,005.00

SERVICE CONTRACTS

7. During Fiscal Year 1948, the Federal Government entered into service contracts with the State as follows:

Army National Guard—for operation of the facility at Camp Butner, North Carolina, at an annual cost to the Federal Government not to exceed $3,750.00.

Air National Guard—for the operation of the facility at Morris Field, North Carolina, at a cost to the Federal Government not to exceed $18,750.00 annually.

These contracts provide for the operation of facilities on a pro rata share, 75% of the cost being borne by the Federal Government and the State paying 25%. During the Fiscal Year 1949, the contract for Morris Field was renewed. The one for Camp Butner was also renewed and amended to increase the maximum pro rata share on the part of the Federal Government to $7,200.00. Also during this fiscal year a service contract was entered into for the support of the installation at Bluthenthal Field, the maximum amount to be spent for operation of the project from Federal funds being $3,956.25.

8. The following facts are of interest and will tend to show to some degree the magnitude of detail this office is required to perform. The figures used below cover the period 1 July 1948 to 30 June 1949.

Army National Guard:

Number of property vouchers (Army shipping documents and property issue slips) processed.....	11,091
Requisitions forwarded to depots.....	950
Reports of Survey processed and forwarded to higher Headquarters	163
Bills of Lading issued.....	208
Transportation Requests issued.....	265
Certificates of Drapage corrected and processed.....	135
Purchase and Delivery Orders issued.....	888
Invitations for Bids issued.....	15
Contracts entered into.....	23
Vouchers processed and forwarded to Finance Officers for payment	1,785

Air National Guard:

Number of Property Vouchers processed.....	4,149
Requisitions forwarded to depots.....	1,577
Reports of Survey, Finance Vouchers, Bills of Lading, and Purchase Orders for the Air National Guard are included in the Army National Guard listing above.

The number of employees now authorized by the National Guard Bureau to this office and the information shown herein indicate to some extent the many and various phases of detail required. The work load in this office is many times what it was prior to World War II.

9. Cooperation on the part of the Adjutant General of the State, Army Instructors and Advisers, Organization Commanders, and other individual officers and men has made it possible for this office to satisfactorily discharge the duties assigned and has made the work a real pleasure. In the operation of this office for the period covered by this report, I desire to acknowledge the contribution made and the fine assistance rendered by each individual employee of this office. Without their untiring work and efforts, the work could not have been done in an acceptable manner.

1948 FIELD TRAINING REPORTS

SENIOR ARMY INSTRUCTOR NORTH CAROLINA NATIONAL GUARD

P. O. Box 791, Raleigh, N. C.

353.01

11 August 1948

SUBJECT: Field Training Report, North Carolina National Guard

TO: Commanding General
Third Army
Fort McPherson, Georgia
ATTENTION: G-3 Section

1. In compliance with letter, Headquarters Third Army, 15 July 1948, Subject: "Field Training Report" (AJCCT 354.1-NG) the following report is submitted:

a. The North Carolina National Guard participated in field training at Fort Bragg, N. C. and Camp Stewart, Ga. from 11-25 July 1948 except that the usual advance and rear detachments were present from 8-26 July 1948. In general, results were excellent, up to the best expectations of this office. Morale was high and interest was sustained.

b. This report is in two sections, Section I for the camp at Fort Bragg and Section II for that at Camp Stewart.

c. Inclosed are the reports of the 30th Infantry Division Instructor and the Senior AAA Instructor.

SECTION I

AT FORT BRAGG, NORTH CAROLINA

1. Highlights of the field training period:

a. Training:

- (1) General—All units of the NC NG except the antiaircraft units (for which see Section II) were attached to the 30th Infantry Division for training at Fort Bragg.
- (2) Basic Subjects—Training was varied as some units were completing armory training and others covered only those basic subjects covered in the NGTP for field training. Training was satisfactory, with officers and enlisted men generally interested, serious and energetic.
- (3) Small Arms Firing—There was little evidence of preliminary instructions, but actual firing was well organized and conducted. Concurrent training was generally carried out. Practically all men fired courses with the weapon with which armed. Crew served weapons were adequately fired except for mortars for which no ammunition was available, and tank weapons which were not available to some units.

- (4) Field Artillery Service Practice was well conducted despite inadequate advanced training. Veterans filled key positions. Much of the instruction was conducted by assigned instructors and was, in general, well received. A few problems were fired using aerial observers.
- (5) Tactical Training was elementary, but generally satisfactory. Included were night exercises, night feeding under tactical conditions and basic security measures.
- (6) Motor Movements at Camp—A motor convoy was operated for all members on the first morning. A shuttle was included. The operation was satisfactory, as were other motor movements during the camp.
- (7) A Demonstration of Weapons Firing conducted by the 82nd AB Division the second day of camp was of great benefit, particularly for the men who had had no previous service.
- (8) The Light Aviation Sections of the NC NG trained with their units in the mornings and in the afternoons were grouped under the Light Aviation Advisors assigned to the Senior Instructors Office. Excellent results were obtained. About 200 hours were flown and 50% of the pilots had a chance to observe artillery fire and listen to the radio procedure. Caretakers and mechanics were trained. Orientation flights for Commanders and Staffs were made.

b. Movement to and from Camp by Motor was well executed with only two (2) minor accidents. Some of the train movements took an excessive and unreasonable length of time. For example, a unit at Winston-Salem, N. C. entrained at 0900 and arrived at Camp at 2015 after traveling by train a distance of 129 miles. A unit at Jacksonville, N. C., 113 miles from Fort Bragg had to go by bus to Wilmington, N. C. and then by train to Fort Bragg, requiring 6 hours, when the entire trip by bus would have consumed but half that time. Detraining and entraining was generally according to schedule and under good control.

c. The Division Staff operated smoothly and efficiently despite the fact that this was the first time they had functioned as such in a group and the fact that some positions were filled by reserve officers, previously unacquainted with the remainder of the staff. This latter was caused by about half of the division staff being assigned to Tennessee and not present in camp.

d. Good discipline was indicated by the excellent conduct of officers and men and the quiet orderly way they went about their tasks.

e. Messes were in general excellent considering the fact that they had to be opened and run for such a short period and with personnel whose abilities could not be known prior to camp. Too many inspections were a detriment.

f. Administration—Due possibly to major emphasis being placed on training, administration was not good. In some cases headquarters units did not assign sufficient men to T/O administrative positions or used those so assigned for other purposes. In general, units relied too much on the Sergeant Instructors to prepare reports and pay rolls when these sergeants should have been engaged in assisting with training.

g. Assistance by the Post—Cooperation between the Fort Bragg personnel and the National Guard was excellent. The post rendered assistance cheerfully and in general adequately. Some exceptions are noted in paragraph 2, below.

2. Comments as to Inadequate or Unsatisfactory Facilities:

a. The .50 Cal MG range made available at Fort Bragg was so far from the camp area that an excessive loss of training time resulted from its use.

b. Two small exchanges operated in the area were entirely inadequate to care for the number of men present. This resulted in over crowding, excessive waiting for service and such bad service as warm drinks which should have been cooled. Disorder, resulting in the necessity to use MP's from Fort Bragg resulted one night because of overcrowding.

c. Arrangements which had been made to have lights placed in buildings prior to occupancy by National Guard troops were not carried out. Refrigerators in the mess halls were not ready at the hour set, and arrangements for drawing rations had to be changed. Much of the plumbing needed repair or adjustment and service on plumbing was reported as inadequate.

d. The bread ration was inadequate for the first two days, it being possible to issue only one-half slice per man per meal. This was corrected the third day.

e. In some cases, lack of equipment hampered training. One heavy weapons company had been issued the wrong type of barrel for its machine guns. In one case, both tanks issued one unit had defective motors so they could not be taken to camp. One cannon company, organized in September 1947, has never received any of the tanks with which it is supposed to be armed. too few crew served weapons were available for best results.

f. Unsatisfactory rail service has been mentioned. One solution would be an increase in the use of bus transportation. At present any rail service deemed satisfactory by the officers of the Transportation Corps must be accepted by the State. Freight cars were substituted for baggage cars for some units which made it impossible to feed the troops during the journey.

g. Too many inspections interfered with the functioning in some cases. One case was investigated and it appears that officers made eleven (11) different inspections of the same mess in one day. Most of them failed to make themselves known to the mess sergeant.

h. Signal communication training was very elementary and was retarded to some extent by the fact that the SOI had to be changed after the camp had opened and was not received by the units until several days of the training period had elapsed. No telephone directory was available initially for NG units and proper procedure could not be followed.

i. The advance and rear detachments were not adequate to carry out the tasks of preparing and closing the camp, due to the restrictions placed on their size by the National Guard Bureau. This resulted in a loss of training time by the units which had to do some of the work during training periods.

3. a. Favorable Comments as to the Training Conducted: Training in general was well conducted and exceeded in excellence what could have reasonably been expected of the NC NG at this stage of its organization and at its first summer camp since reorganization. Officers and men as a rule worked hard and took an interest in the training. Schedules were generally followed. Advice and actual instruction by instructor personnel was well received. Range discipline was in general excellent. Night training was excellent with strict observance of light and noise discipline. Bivouacs were established and meals were served under cover of darkness in a very creditable manner. The light aviation training was well organized and carried out by the light aviation advisors. Results of field training were of more value than a whole year of armory training, particularly in view of the firing of all weapons which should give added interest to the coming year's armory training.

b. Adverse comments as to the training conducted: In general the coaches on the firing line were inexperienced and showed more interest in the results of the firing than in attempting to correct the faults of the firer. In some instances, small arms range organization was faulty and resulted in unnecessary delays.

Some of the field artillery firing was done with a few trained men and little effort was made to train the new men.

In many cases, both small arms and FA firing was carried on with no effort made to carry on concurrent training of idle men who played cards or slept.

In many cases instructors were not prepared to teach the subjects they were attempting to cover.

Some officers show a disinclination to become proficient in the branch to which now assigned and which is different their active service branch. They say they do not have time to pursue correspondence or other courses.

On occasion too many men were required to police barracks or areas to the neglect of training. One unit is reported to have taken a half day off on orders from higher authority, to police barracks when the schedule called for training.

Control and dispatching, drivers training and first echelon maintenance were not up to standard.

Despite the fact that a two day school for commanders and staff officers had been held in June 1948 in which the necessity for advance planning by commanders and staffs above company level was accentuated, such planning was often not in evidence. One FA Bn instructor reports "Insufficient and sometimes improper planning by the staff resulted in a great amount of confusion. The purpose of the staff is to plan and aid the battery commanders. It became necessary for the battery commanders to enter into the planning and do a great amount of work that should have been done by the staff. Two big events, Service Practice and Carbine Firing, were disorganized due to insufficient and improper planning by the staff."

5. Readiness for combat of units of the NC NG cannot be arbitrarily stated with the data at hand or obtainable under existing circumstances. According to my estimate it is as follows:

Hq. 30th Infantry Div (in part).....	40 %
119th Inf	30 %
120th Inf	32 %
378th Engr (c) Bn.....	25 %
505th FA Bn (its only firing battery organized 8 July 48 and did not attend camp).....	10 %
540th FA Bn.....	20 %
690th FA Bn.....	20 %
449th FA Bn.....	10 %
94th Army Band.....	80 %
Hq. Co. 30th Inf Div.....	20 %
112th FA Bn (30th Inf Div).....	25 %
113th FA Bn (30th Inf Div).....	25 %
30th Inf Div Signal Co.....	15 %
3624th Ord Maint Co, AA.....	25 %

From 4 to 9 months would be required for units, except the Band, to be ready for combat, given adequate supplies and equipment. The Band is practically ready now.

5. Recommendations: a. Advanced detachments to prepare barracks of the type at Fort Bragg should be 10% of the strength of the command and should include a field officer from each general and special staff section of the division headquarters.

b. The arrangement for transportation to and from camp should be made as at present, but the USP & DO of NC should be authorized to state when transportation offered by railroads is not satisfactory so that bus service may be used. Railroads should not be authorized to substitute freight cars for baggage cars when the trip extends over a meal period.

c. Arrangements should be made to ship equipment to active NG units at an earlier date than is now the case.

d. Officers serving in a new branch under a waiver should be required to show that they are making some effort to retire the waiver. Complete retirement of such waiver should not be indefinitely postponed.

e. Renewed and more vigorous efforts should be made to compel unit commanders above the company level to make advanced plans before going to camp and actively carry them out while at camp.

f. Consideration should be given to holding next year's camp soon after the academic year ends. Many of the enlisted men are students who want to work during the summer and can't ask employers to let them off after they start on a temporary job. This period would also interfere less with tobacco men, of whom there are many, than the mid-summer period.

SECTION II

AAA AT CAMP STEWART, GEORGIA

1. Highlights of the field training period:

a. General—The active NC NG AAA units attending camp consisted of a group Hq & Hq Btry; a 90mm Gun Bn with a Hq & Hq Btry and two firing batteries; and an AW Bn with a Hq & Hq Btry and one firing Battery. One battery had only been organized one month while two had been organized over a year. Many of the men had been enlisted a short time. Units were in camp during the period 11-25 July 1948, except for the usual advance and rear detachments which were present from 8-26 July 1948.

b. Training:

- (1) Basic training was carried out in general by officers of the National Guard and was satisfactory. Training subjects varied as some units were completing armory training and some followed the NGTP for field training as far as basic subjects were concerned.
- (2) Technical and Specialists Training was carried out by an instruction team from Fort Bliss. This team was largely responsible for the excellent results obtained, as few of the NG officers are trained in the technique of AAA.
- (3) Firing: Artillery firing and the firing of small arms was excellent. It is broken down as follows:
 - (a) One (1) towed target mission fired by 90mm guns. One hundred twelve (112) rounds per gun. No hits registered.
 - (b) One (1) ground target and two (2) towed target missions fired by 40mm guns. A total of eight hundred and four (804) rounds were expended. Seven hundred (700) rounds were fired at a towed target and three (3) direct hits were registered.
 - (c) Approximately twenty five hundred (2500) rounds of .50 Cal were fired by the M55 machine guns at towed targets. Nine (9) hits were registered.
 - (d) All officers and all enlisted men fired the M1 rifle, the carbine and the sub-machine gun on the small arms range. A familiarization course was fired with all small arms.

c. Movement to and from Camp was carried out as a motor march with an overnight bivouac. No accidents were reported.

d. Administration—The administration of the units was not good. It was necessary to use the sergeant instructors far too much in administration, when their time should be devoted to training. In most cases, reports and pay rolls had to be made out by the sergeant instructors. Most errors were carelessness, such as mistakes in spelling of names, incorrect middle initials, serial numbers, etc., which indicates that officers signing reports and rolls do not check and verify what they sign.

e. Assistance by the Post commander and his staff, members of the 378th Ord Bn and particularly by the instructors team from Fort Bliss contributed much to the success of the camp.

2. Comments as to inadequate or unsatisfactory facilities:

a. Training areas and facilities were excellent for the AAA except that no building was cleared for use as a class room at or near the firing range. Such a class room should be had for inclement weather instruction.

b. Equipment for Training was inadequate. South Carolina, North Carolina and Georgia had to use one set of cables for remote control equipment for firing the 90mm guns. These belonged to the South Carolina National Guard and only available due to the willingness of the responsible officer to lend them to the other units.

c. Overlapping of units from three States resulted in conflicting needs for the AAA instructors team from Fort Bliss, training areas, and ranges. There was no coordinator to regulate the use of these facilities.

d. Advance Detachments were inadequate due to restrictions imposed by the National Guard Bureau. This applies particularly to communications personnel.

e. Present allowance of clothing proved inadequate in view of the climate at Camp Stewart and insufficient laundry facilities.

f. Lack of service club facilities for the use of enlisted personnel at the camp was a handicap to enjoyment of leisure time by enlisted men.

g. While the ordnance company sent to Camp Stewart was very cooperative, they did not have the personnel necessary to service AAA units.

3. a. Favorable comments as to Training Conducted:

- (1) The 90mm guns were not received until 10 days before the camp period and were still in cosmoline when they arrived at Camp Stewart, yet one hundred and twelve (112) rounds per gun were fired at a towed target. Much of the credit for this fine performance should go to the instructor team from Fort Bliss.
- (2) The enlisted men were intelligent, eager to learn and had a high morale. They benefited greatly from the instruction presented.
- (3) Results of field training were very satisfactory. More was gained from this period than from a whole year of armory training. Having fired their primary weapon, members of the unit should get more from armory training this coming year than they have from the past.
- (4) The superior instruction given by the Fort Bliss Instructor Team resulted in fine results during the firing of the AAA weapons.

b. Adverse Comments as to the Training Conducted:

- (1) Except for basic subjects, National Guard officers were in general, unable to carry on training. Few of the officers of the NC NG AAA are trained in the technique of AAA.

4. Readiness for Combat:

a. The following is taken from the report of the Senior Instructor with the AAA units, with which I concur:

"The period it would take to train the 252nd AAA Group, NC. NG would depend upon the training they would receive, their replacements and the type of combat they would prepare for. The present strength is 66.6 % officers, 33.33 % W/O and 57.5 % Enlisted Men. If the replacement of 40 % officers were trained AAA officers, and the group was given four months of additional training, it is my opinion that they would be ready for combat against enemy aircraft in a Rear Area Defense. It would take six (6) to nine (9) months, possibly a year before they could be committed to combat in the front lines."

Readiness for combat for these units is estimated at 20%.

5. Recommendations:

a. A Training Coordinator should be furnished by Third Army for regulating the use of training areas, ranges, and instruction teams, in order that all units may receive their share of these facilities.

b. The advance detachment should be increased from 40% to 50% particularly in the communication personnel.

c. Pressure should be brought to bear upon the issuing agencies for necessary equipment.

d. Service Clubs should always be available for the use of the enlisted personnel.

e. Officers serving in a new branch under a waiver should be required to show that they are making some efforts to retire the waiver. Complete retirement of such waiver should not be indefinitely postponed.

f. Consideration should be given to holding next years camp soon after the academic year ends. Many of the enlisted men are students who want to work during the summer and can't ask their employers to let them off after they start on a temporary job. This would also interfere less with tobacco men, of whom there are many, than the mid-summer period.

Raleigh, N. C.

1. Reference: Letter AJCOT 354.1—NG, Hq 3rd Army 15 July 1948 and your Indorsement thereto.

2. Observations on high points noted.

a. Movement to Fort Bragg.

(1) Rail movement was orderly but unduly slow. Detraining and baggage handling was well conducted in view of truck shortage.

- (2) Convoy movement was generally well regulated. Only one case of poor march discipline was noted, and one accident recorded. Lack of road signs and guides at Fort Bragg resulted in some confusion upon arrival.

b. Quartering and house keeping was quickly organized.

c. Messing was uniformly poor the first two days but in view of lack of trained personnel, it exceeded my expectations. The ration issued was excellent and with two days "settling down" experience all messes improved. A bread shortage was corrected on the third day. By the 8th day all messes were functioning well, high quality meals were being served and sanitary inspections resulted in 75 % excellent or better ratings.

d. Training

- (1) Basic subjects: A satisfactory standard of instruction was maintained, although advance preparation was uniformly poor. With few exceptions, insufficient use of proper training aids was made even when the aids were on hand. The exceptions noted were however cases of remarkably excellent work. In general there was serious attitude toward training and commendable effort however misdirected.
- (2) Tactical training: elementary and satisfactory.
- (3) Weapons training: Preliminary instruction was of a low order or non-existent. Instruction practice firing was conducted in a manner varying in quality from very poor to excellent. The coach and pupil method was poorly employed throughout, the coaches rarely serving on the line in any capacity other than ammunition procurers. Organization of range, handling of pit details, conduct of the firing line, safety precautions and behind the line instruction were satisfactory but with much room for improvement. Discipline on the range and policing were very good. On the pistol range, discipline, observance of safety precautions and officer supervision were excellent.

e. Motor vehicles

- (1) Control and dispatching, driver training and first echelon maintenance were uniformly poor. There is considerable room for improvement here especially in control of vehicle trip tickets and record keeping.
- (2) Convoy operation and motor vehicle march discipline were satisfactory.

f. A night exercise was held consisting of short march and bivouac, on-position feeding and in some units basic security training. The exercise had value chiefly in elementary individual training in self care on the field.

g. Field artillery service practice firing was conducted on a limited scale due to shortage of personnel as well as equipment. I did not observe this firing. It is covered in the reports of the artillery instructors.

h. Closing of camp was methodically planned and well executed. Barracks and messes were left in excellent condition as to cleanliness. Turn-in of equipment was efficiently done. Entraining was accomplished without confusion or undue delay. The entire closing of the camp was without rowdiness or disorderly conduct, a credit to both officers and men.

3. Recommendations.

a. If semi-permanent garrisons are used in the future for housing during field training the size of the advance and rear detachments should be 10% of the overall strength of the units attending. The work load of drawing and distributing of PC&S property was excessive.

b. To reduce this heavy load incident to opening and closing a barracks type garrison, consideration should be given to a tent encampment with all equipment brought from home stations. Time required for opening and closing camp would be greatly reduced and the expense would be no greater and probably less.

c. Great improvement is in order in mode of travel to and from camp. The rigid scheduling of rail movement by the Transportation Corps results in irritating and unbelievable slow movements of many units. The amount of revenue accruing to the railroads from these intra-state movements must be negligible. Scheduling of movements totally within the home state should be centralized to the State Adjutant General. In these times a schedule calling for elapsed time of approximately twenty-four (24) hours for two hundred and seventy (270) miles, passenger travel or five and one-half (5½) hours for fifty-three (53) miles should be held to be unsatisfactory service and more sufficient modes of travel employed.

4. Combat readiness estimate: I rate the officer personnel of the 30th Division Hq and Hq Co 50% ready for combat; the enlisted personnel 30%. In my opinion the entire division could be reasonably prepared for combat after a period of four months intensive training.

SUBJECT: Field Training Report, 1948

TO: Senior Army Instructor
North Carolina National Guard
Post Office Box 791
Raleigh, North Carolina

1. In compliance with letter 354.1-NG, Subject: Field Training Report, Headquarters Third Army, dated 15 July 1948, and 1st indorsement thereto, the following report is submitted:

a. Highlights of Field Training Despite the fact that 90mm guns were not received until ten (10) days before field training, the 150th AAA Gun

Bn NC. NG., fired a mission of 112 rounds per gun at a towed target. Considering that the guns were still in cosmoline when they arrived at Camp Stewart, and that none of the personnel had any training at their home station, I consider this a Highlight in training. Credit for this accomplishment should go to the AA Team from Fort Bliss.

b. Training. Except for basic subjects, National Guard Officers were unable to carry on training. Officers in the 252nd AAA Group, North Carolina National Guard, are not trained in the Technique of AAA. The training in basic subjects was very satisfactory to excellent.

c. Administration The administration of the 252nd AAA Group is poor. It was necessary to use the Sergeant Instructor far too much in administration, when their time should be devoted to training. In most cases reports and pay rolls had to actually be made out by the Sergeant Instructors. Most errors are carelessness, such as mistakes in spelling of names, incorrect middle initials, serial numbers, etc., which indicates that officers signing reports and rolls, not only are deficient in administration, but that they do not check and verify what they sign.

d. Firing Artillery firing and the firing of small arms was excellent. It is broken down as follows:

- (1) One (1) towed target mission fired by 90mm guns. One hundred twelve (112) rounds per gun. No hits registered.
- (2) One (1) ground target and two (2) towed target missions fired by 40mm guns. A total of eight hundred and four (804) rounds were expended. Seven hundred rounds were fired at a towed target and three (3) direct hits were registered.
- (3) Approximately twenty five hundred (2500) rounds of 50 Cal were fired by the M55 Machine Guns at towed targets. Nine (9) hits were registered.
- (4) All officers and all enlisted men fired the M1 rifle, the carbine and the sub/machine gun, on the small arms range. A familiarization course was fired with all small arms.

e. Kitchens Food was not in all cases well prepared. Experienced cooks are needed in the National Guard. Even with the assistance of the Third Army in furnishing a Mess Adviser, food was a factor that detracted from the morale of the enlisted personnel.

f. Equipment The issue of necessary equipment to the National Guard is poor. South Carolina, North Carolina, and Georgia used one set of cables for remote control equipment in firing 90mm guns. These cables were the property of the South Carolina National Guard, and it was through the willingness of the responsible officer that North Carolina and Georgia were able to fire the 90mm guns. It is difficult indeed to impress the National Guard of the seriousness of training, when issuing agencies offer no plausible excuse for delay in issuing equipment.

g. National Guard Officers Most officers of the National Guard have a very good attitude, but are seriously lacking in training for the position to which they are assigned. Very few are engaged in extension courses.

h. National Guard Enlisted Personnel The intelligence of the enlisted men in the National Guard is a higher average than that of the Regular Army. The morale is good, they are eager to learn and in my opinion, with the correct instruction and leadership, they could be converted into combat troops in much less time than the pre-war National Guard. There seems to exist in most of the younger men, the fact that their Father or Brother was a soldier in the last War. I believe this to be a contributing factor in case of an emergency in the future.

i. Camp Facilities and Training Areas Camp Stewart, Georgia, is an excellent training area, for White Artillery Troops. With the correct planning recreational trips to Savannah Beach are possible. The City of Savannah is near enough for week-end trips. Post Theaters are available, and a Service Club could be opened on the post. Organized Athletics depend upon the initiative of the Units concerned.

j. Transportation While the National Guard is not sufficiently equipped with motor vehicles, yet in issue, consideration must be given to the fact that they are not yet capable of maintaining them.

k. Results of Field Training It is my opinion that the National Guard received far more training during the field training period than during the entire year of armory training. The fact alone that they fired their primary weapons, should be an incentive during the following armory training year.

l. Readiness for Combat The fact that no National Guard Troops were committed to combat until three (3) years after mobilization during the last war, has an influence upon this statement. The period it would take to train the 252nd AAA Group for combat would depend upon the training they would receive, their replacements, and the type of combat they would prepare for. The present strength is 66.6 % officers, 33.3 % W/O, and 57.5 % enlisted men. If the replacement of 40 % officers were trained AAA officers, and the Group was given four months (4) of additional training, it is my opinion that they would be ready for combat against enemy aircraft in a Rear Area Defense. It would take six (6) to nine (9) months, possibly a year before they could be committed to combat on the front lines.

2. Recommendations

a. The training conducted by the AAA Team from Fort Bliss was very valuable, but two (2) teams should be furnished where the training periods of two (2) National Guard Units overlap.

b. A Training Coordinator should be furnished by Third Army for regulating the use of training areas, ranges, and instruction teams, in order that each unit may receive their share of these facilities.

c. The advance detachment should be increased from 40 % to 50 %, particularly in the communication personnel.

d. Pressure should be brought to bear upon issuing agencies for necessary equipment.

e. Unloading ramps for heavy guns should always be available where AAA train.

f. Service Clubs should always be available for the use of the enlisted personnel.

g. Cooks and Bakers Schools must not only be made available for National Guard Personnel, but the attendance of such schools must be mandatory if the National Guard feed their personnel, and maintain morale while at Field Training.

h. It should be mandatory that officers Messes be established in the National Guard, and that no National Guard Officers eat with the enlisted personnel.

i. It should be mandatory that the officers of the National Guard attend available night schools during the training in the field.

j. Training Aids must be made available to the National Guard. They do not have the equipment or the time to construct training aids such as troops of the Regular Army.

k. While the Ordnance Company sent to Camp Stewart was very cooperative, they did not have the personnel necessary to service AAA units.

TENNESSEE AND NORTH CAROLINA NATIONAL GUARD

Office of the Commanding General
Raleigh, North Carolina

5 August 1948

SUBJECT: Report on field training, Fort Bragg, N. C., 11-25 July 1948.

TO : The Adjutant General, Raleigh, N. C.

1. Pursuant to Par. 4, GO No. 18, 22 June 1948, Office of the Adjutant General, Raleigh, N. C., I submit this report on the summer field training periods of the North Carolina National Guard, less Anti-Aircraft Artillery units, which took place at Fort Bragg, N. C., 11-25 July 1948.

2. Attached hereto as annexes to this report are reports of the Chief of Staff and Chief of Sections of Division Headquarters. These reports are general in their nature, cover the special activities of each section and contain recommendations with respect to the 1949 field training. The recommendations submitted by each section are being extracted and will receive distribution to all members of the Staff for consideration and study in connection with future field training.

3. The average strength was 300 officers and approximately 3500 enlisted men. Although the last train did not arrive until 2230 hours, 11 July, the training program began promptly on 12 July. The first item was a demonstration on Smoke Bomb Hill by the 82nd Airborne Division of recoilless weapons and by the 758th Tank Battalion of the 90 mm. gun mounted on tanks. This was followed by a demonstration by the North Carolina State Highway Patrol of the use of chemical agents in domestic disturbances. Lt. Colonel Hammond, Chemical Officer, V Corps, assisted and all demonstrations were most interesting and instructive. The demonstration began at 8:30. It was necessary to employ 67 trucks in 4 serials and to have these trucks shuttle in order to get the troops from the FARTC area to Smoke Bomb Hill. Practically none of the truck drivers had driven in convoys before but the serials moved out promptly and the last serial of the second shuttle arrived at 0835 in ample time for the demonstration.

4. The training moved along generally in accordance with the schedules and only slight modifications were necessary. The over-night bivouac proved very interesting and was quite successful.

5. Quite a good many men had enlisted from two to three weeks prior to 11 July 1948. Due to having experienced officers and key non-commissioned officers, these untrained Guardsmen fell into the routine very promptly, manifested considerable interest in all training and evidenced a desire to learn.

6. The ration was adequate except for the item of bread during the first few days. This was corrected by using the issue of flour for the making of bread. Thereafter, the supply of bread was sufficient and the ration ample in every respect.

7. No serious accident of any kind occurred, either to motor vehicles or to personnel.

8. Many officers expressed the view that this was by far the best summer training period in which they had participated. There were 34 Reserve Officers attached for duty and these officers were given responsible assignments, performed their duties in a most satisfactory manner and went about their work as though they were permanent members of the team. Many were used on the Division Headquarters Staff to fill vacancies due to the fact that the Division Headquarters is split between North Carolina and Tennessee. Many of these officers expressed a desire to become members of the National Guard and most of them would make exceptionally desirable officers.

9. The entire Staff of V Corps Headquarters and of Post Headquarters, Fort Bragg, N. C., were most cooperative, supplied us with everything that we needed that they had and even went out of their way to be of assistance to us. Major General S. LeRoy Irwin, Commanding V Corps and Fort Bragg, and Major General Clovis C. Byers, Commanding 82nd Airborne Division, were most cooperative and did everything possible to assist us in every way. My appreciation to both of these officers was expressed verbally prior to my departure from Fort Bragg and in writing since my return to Raleigh.

10. Units moved out promptly on the afternoon of 24 July and the morning of 25 July, the last train clearing the entraining area at 1030 hours, as scheduled. The Advanced Detachment completed its work and was able to clear on 26 July in ample time to reach their home stations before midnight of that day.

HEADQUARTERS 252ND AAA GROUP
WILMINGTON, N. C.

15 August 1948.

1. In compliance with paragraph 4, General Order Number 19, Adjutant General's Department, Raleigh, N. C., dated 22 June, 1948, the following report of field training for units of this command at Camp Stewart, Ga., from July 10-25, incl., 1948, is submitted.

2. (a) Movements:

The movement by units of the 252nd AAA Group to Camp for the field training period was executed in nine serials. There were three serials in the advance party by motor, three in the main body by motor and three in the main body by rail. The advance parties from Wilmington, Red Springs, Raeford and Whiteville each left their respective home stations at 0700 7 July 1948. The main bodies by motor from Wilmington, Red Springs, Raeford and Whiteville each left their respective home stations at 0700 10 July 1948. The serials of the advance party combined at a pre-arranged bivouac and camped for the night. They departed from bivouac area at 0700 8 July 1948, arriving at Camp Stewart, Georgia, at 1100 8 July 1948. The main body by motor followed the same procedure as the advance party, with the exception of the dates, which in their case were 10 July and 11 July 1948, arriving at Camp Stewart, Georgia at 1100 11 July 1948. The bivouac area was located about 3 miles south of Green Pond, S. C., on an unimproved road on Myrtle Grove Plantation. Coordinates of bivouac area are G3-12.1 as shown on Standard Oil road map (North Carolina-South Carolina 1947). The main body by rail from Wilmington, N. C. left by A.C.L. train No. 55 at 1525 10 July 1948 and were joined in Whiteville by the main body by rail from there. The train departed Whiteville at 1642 10 July 1948, arriving at Florence, S. C., at 1845 10 July 1948. The main body by rail from Red Springs-Raeford departed from their home stations by bus in time to meet ACL Train No. 89, which departed from Fayetteville, N. C. at 1546 10 July 1948. This serial arrived at Florence, S. C. at 1815 10 July 1948. All serials of the main body by rail ate supper at Florence and departed by ACL Special at 2015 10 July 1948, arriving at Camp Stewart, Georgia at 0900 11 July 1948. Units returned to their home stations by the same means stated above in reverse order with all units arriving 25 July 1948, except the rear party, which arrived on 26 July 1948.

The usual convoy discipline was observed by the motor movements with rest and meal stops at the proper intervals. There were no accidents or motor troubles during the motor movement, nor were there any accidents on the rail movement. The entire movement both to and from Camp was very orderly and was executed in the best possible military manner.

(b) The camp site for the units of this Command made up of a tent area for living quarters, with buildings for all headquarters, supply rooms, motor pools and mess halls. The tents had cement floors and electric lights, but no wall sides. The Camp area was very well arranged and was satisfactory except for drainage. Frequent rains caused huge puddles of water to stand constantly, especially in the tent area set aside for officers. Mosquito control was very good as only very few were encountered. Post Headquarters was a good distance from the Camp area, but the PX, barber shop and picture show were conveniently located and easily accessible by foot.

(c) Supplies:

Post Personnel at Camp Stewart helped in every way possible to secure supplies for units of this Command. All items that were drawn at Camp were on hand and made available both day and night. Lack of transportation issued to units prior to Camp was the greatest handicap; however, with help from the post ordnance company and shuttling, this obstacle was overcome. Shortages of all units which were not filled prior to camp were not available at camp. Some expendable supplies, such as maps, toilet paper and cleaning materials, were not received either at home station or Camp Stewart. An insufficient supply of brooms were received since buildings were large and in most cases very dirty. Supplies in general, however, were drawn with the minimum of trouble and with the fullest cooperation from camp personnel.

(d) Training:

Training throughout the two weeks period was carried out, with very few changes, according to the approved schedule issued prior to camp. The schedule was changed for AA firing due to availability of the towed target. All men showed great interest in all phases of training and were eager to learn. Schools were conducted for communication men, radio operators, battery clerks, First Sergeants and Supply Sergeants and, from all reports of personnel, were very well conducted and beneficial. All officers and men fired a familiarization course with M-1 rifle, carbine and Sub Thompson machine gun. All gun batteries fired 90MM both ground fire and towed sleeve and AW Batteries fired 40MM and M55 quadruple machine guns both ground fire and towed sleeve. The AW Batteries obtained 440MM hits, and 18 50 cal hits, while 90MM Batteries obtained many theoretical hits. The best possible use was made of training aids and in many instances they were improvised.

A recruit training schedule was set up and put into effect for men who had just joined the National Guard prior to Camp. The instruction was very thorough and interesting and helped materially to bring these new men up to the training level of the older men.

The AAA1S, AW and Gun Teams from Fort Bliss, Texas were very cooperative in every way and the instruction given was largely responsible for the successful manner in which the guns fired.

Post Personnel at Camp Stewart helped in every way to carry out the training schedule.

Training for the first field training period was well coordinated and at all times was carried on with the aim of accomplishing all possible training that is impossible to carry out during armory training.

(e) Inspections:

During the two weeks camp there were a great many inspections. The first was by Lt. Col. Hayes, Hq., Third Army, Atlanta, Ga. Following him was an inspection by Brig. Gen. J. Van B. Metts, Adjutant General of N. C., accompanied by his assistant, Major W. R. Bloxton, who spent two days with the command. During Gen. Metts' stay, Lt. General Alvan C. Gillem, C.G. 3rd Army, Atlanta, Ga., and his entire staff inspected the camp area and training. Gen. Gillem was accompanied also by Brig. Gen. Fraser, CG of the AAA Brigade of Georgia National Guard. Next the units were inspected by Col. Riner-son, representing the Inspector General, Hq., Third Army, Atlanta, Ga. His inspection lasted for the entire second week of camp and he personally visited each unit. Col. William T. Fitts, Senior Instructor, NCNG, visited the area during the first week and inspected the area and training. Following Col. Fitts, Major Gen. Leland S. Hobbs, Deputy Commander, 3rd Army, Atlanta, Ga., visited camp and observed units on the AAA firing range. All inspecting officers seemed very well satisfied.

(f) Recommendations :

The following recommendations are made in a constructive manner for the benefit and best interest of all future camps:

- (1) That a better drainage system be provided, especially around living quarters.
- (2) That mess trays or plates be furnished for all personnel.
- (3) That tents be walled and screened.
- (4) That an Army laundry be established.
- (5) That units not be required to furnish M.P.'s and guards for the PX's dances, etc., especially with the present shortage of personnel.
- (6) That a PX be located in the camp area.
- (7) That an Army band be furnished for use of the command.
- (8) That AAA instructors from Fort Bliss be furnished again for help with training.
- (9) That all supplies for camp be shipped to the transportation office at camp, as they completely filled one truck for this year's camp.
- (10) That the sales officer be notified of regulations under which rations are to be issued.
- (11) That a substantial increase be made in the allowance of cleaning materials.

- (12) That the advance detachment consist of at least one officer and three enlisted men, with units of 100 men or more furnishing one officer and five enlisted men.

(g) Commendations:

Col. John N. Hauser and his entire staff at Camp Stewart, Ga., including the AAA instruction team from Fort Bliss, Texas, should be highly commended for the fine cooperation given to this command during the entire stay at camp. There was not one time in which post personnel failed to exert every possible means to aid in every manner. The good spirit in which the help was given greatly aided the success of the first field training period of AAA units of NCNG and made our stay at Camp Stewart, Ga., very pleasant and enjoyable.

Lt. Col. Frederick L. Van Atta, AAA Army Advisor, NCNG, Wilmington, N. C., Major Lee M. Kirby, AAA Army Instructor, NCNG, Raeford, N. C. and their assistants, who are M/Sgt. William L. Massengill, 1st Sgt. Nichlos Giovinetti, 1st Sgt. William E. Willis, and S/Sgt. William E. Marlar, should also be highly commended for the great amount of assistance given to all units of this command before going to camp and during the two weeks camp.

SUBJECT: Commendation, North Carolina National Guard

TO: Officers, North Carolina National Guard

1. The following commendation, received from the Commanding General, Headquarters, Third Army, is forwarded for your information:

"5 October 1949

Major General J. Van B. Metts
The Adjutant General
State of North Carolina
Raleigh, North Carolina

Dear General Metts:

I wish to extend my sincere congratulations to you and the officers and men of the North Carolina National Guard for the splendid attendance attained during the 1949 National Guard field training period.

The North Carolina National Guard achieved the highest percentage of attendance, based on actual strength, of the various states within the Third Army Area. This feat is especially noteworthy since summer encampments were conducted during the busiest part of North Carolina's agricultural season and undoubtedly interfered with many of the individuals' civilian pursuits.

It would be appreciated if the contents of this letter were made known to all personnel of your command.

Sincerely,

/s/ ALVAN C. GILLEM, JR.
/t/ ALVAN C. GILLEM, JR.
Lieutenant General, USA

2. Desire this communication be posted on Unit Bulletin Board.

In accordance with paragraph 21, Annex No. 3 to Training Memorandum No. 2 (NG), Headquarters Third Army, 20 November 1948, all units, including the company, will forward three (3) copies of their training program to the Commanding General, Third Army, (through the Senior Army Instructor), not later than 15 May 1949, for review, approval, and return. Reference is made to Section IX and Appendix No. 2, FM 21-5, WD, 1941, for details as to the preparation of a unit training program.

4. Purpose of this Memorandum:

To furnish a basic guide for the units of the North Carolina National Guard during 1949 summer field training period.

5. Attendance:

a. All officers are required to attend field training unless excused by The Adjutant General of North Carolina.

b. All enlisted men will attend, unless excused by the unit commander. Unit commanders will excuse men only when the circumstances are such as to make it impossible for them to attend. See also letter from this office, 7 March 1949, subject: "Field Training Attendance".

6. Unit Attendance Requirements:

Each unit must be self-sustaining, or combined with, or attached to a self-sustaining unit for administration and messing. The necessary combination or attachment to secure this self-sustaining status will be a responsibility of appropriate higher commanders.

7. Attachment:

a. Non-divisional units of the North Carolina National Guard, other than AAA units, will be attached to the 30th Infantry Division for field training, as well as administration and supply.

b. The 130th AAA AW Bn., 30th Inf. Div. will be attached to the 252nd AAA. Gp. for training, as well as administration and supply.

8. Planning:

a. Unit commanders will personally supervise planning for training of their units during the summer camp and will see that each member of their staffs takes part with a view to perfecting detailed plans such as area and range assignments, plans for firing, plans for bivouacs, tactical training, plans for housing, messing, and other administrative arrangements prior to arrival at camp. Plans of each unit will be based on those of the next higher unit up to the Division.

9. Prescribed Training:

a. Training will be conducted as prescribed in NGTP's, 1 September 1948, except that training prescribed for first week may be held in the second week and vice versa as required in order to fully utilize ranges and other training facilities.

b. All units of the North Carolina National Guard will follow the training prescribed for the first year in the appropriate NGTP.

10. Training Objective:

a. To enhance the combat efficiency of the individual and the unit by building on the basis of the knowledge acquired during the armory training period, and to take advantage of the time and facilities afforded to this end.

b. Unit commanders will fit individuals into the program according to the progress they have made in armory training, or other previous military experience.

11. Weapons Firing:

a. The provisions for firing individual and crew-served weapons, outlined in paragraph 4f (2) (a) and (b), and 4f (3), NGTP's, 1 September 1948, will be adhered to with such adjustments as may be indicated by firings accomplished on week-end prior to camp.

b. Qualification courses to be fired will be as prescribed in appropriate FM's. For example, FM 23-5, Section III prescribes the qualification courses that may be fired with the rifle, calibre 30, M1. Unit commanders may decide which of the particular courses prescribed will be fired. Course D (1000") will not be fired as a qualification course with the rifle.

12. Safety:

a. Reference is made to Section XI, TM No. 2, (NG), Headquarters Third Army, 20 November 1948. During range firing, safety precautions, outlined in appropriate field manuals, will be taken.

13. Concurrent Training:

a. Due to the short time available, special effort will be made to see that all personnel are being trained during all training periods. On the range, those men awaiting their turn to fire will be carrying on other training. This applies to members of firing batteries not actually employed during service practice.

14. Intelligence Training:

a. See Annex No. 2 to TM No. 2 (NG), Headquarters Third Army, 20 November 1948.

15. Training Time:

a. The following losses in training time during the fifteen (15) days encampment are expected:

(1) $\frac{1}{2}$ day (1st Saturday)— $\frac{1}{2}$ day Holiday.

(2) 1 day (2nd Sunday)—Holiday.

(3) 1 day (2nd Saturday)— $\frac{1}{2}$ day, pay and turn-in of property;
 $\frac{1}{2}$ day Holiday.

16. Methods of Instruction:

a. Training will be conducted in accordance with the doctrine enunciated in FM 21-5, TM 21-250, and TF 7-295.

b. Instruction should be carefully planned, properly executed, and adequately supervised.

c. Caution should be exercised to insure that instruction is not conducted in groups that are too large.

17. Athletics:

The allocation of training time is insufficient to allow for the inclusion of organized athletics in the schedule of training. However, competitive sports and games for other than drill hours should be encouraged by unit commanders.

18. Training Equipment:

a. Each unit will take to camp all training equipment with which it is supplied and which is necessary to carry out its training program. This will include not only T/E equipment, but training aids that are available and appropriate.

19. Food Service School:

a. There will be two types of schools for mess personnel prior to camp; one such school will be held for short periods at a number of locations in North Carolina for personnel from nearby units starting in May. There will also be a four-day school for selected mess personnel to be held at Fort Jackson and Camp Stewart just prior to camp. Detailed information will be furnished later as to these schools.

20. Movement by Convoy:

a. Movement to and from camp by motor convoy affords excellent training, if properly planned and executed.

(1) Unit commanders will see that this opportunity is exploited to the fullest extent within the time allowed, within the allowance of gasoline and lubricants, and in accordance with current instructions for the use of motor vehicles.

b. Unit commanders will see that discipline is maintained during convoy movement to include proper wearing of the uniform.

c. The use of private automobiles for travel to and from field training camps will require prior approval in each instance, of the Chief, National Guard Bureau. Commanding officers will not permit the use of private automobiles except as authorized, even though cost of such usage might be borne by the individual.

21. Tests:

a. Reference is made to paragraph 13, Section I, NGTP's, 1 September 1948.

22. Immunizations:

a. Attention is invited to Par. 5a, NGR-62, dated 26 February 1947 which states that no member of the National Guard will depart from home station for field training without completion of required immunizations.

For the Adjutant General:

WILLARD R. BLOXTON, Asst. to the Adjutant General.

SUBJECT: Field Training Report, North Carolina National Guard

TO: Commanding General
Third Army
Fort McPherson, Georgia
ATTENTION: G-3 Section

1. In compliance with letter, Headquarters Third Army, 28 April 1949, subject, "Field Training Report" (AJCOT 354.1-NG), the following report is submitted:

a. The North Carolina National Guard (less AAA units and the 94th Army Band) participated in field training at Fort Jackson, S. C. from 14-28 August 1949. In general, results were excellent, up to the best expectations of this office. Morale was high and interest was sustained.

2. Highlights of the field training period:

a. Training:

(1) General—Orderly entry into and quick settlement of camp, and the expeditious manner in which units began the prosecution of their training program is noteworthy and indicative of a good organization. The outstanding manner in which all the instructional teams furnished by Third Army performed their assigned instructional duties, and the extreme value of this instruction at this particular stage of National Guard training, was a decided highlight of the encampment. The superior cooperation of the Post authorities in all matters is deserving of commendation. The first training period of the 30th Infantry Division as a whole marked the birth of Division morale. Great benefit of the Division training together was illustrated in the staff functioning in all echelons and the proper functioning of the chain of command.

The tail-end of a hurricane struck while the troops were in the midst of breaking camp, inconvenienced and wet many of them, and detained the rear detachment to turn in wet mattresses and erect fallen tents. The rear detachment did what the Post authorities believed necessary towards rectifying the damage, and returned home within their pay limitations.

- (2) Basic—A good percentage of recruits came in at the “eleventh hour” to attend camp and were without basic training. To them the minimum amount, as scheduled by the NGTP, was a handicap. However, certain phases of basic training, to which every soldier is subjected, was satisfactory at the outset and showed progressive improvement throughout the encampment. In the Light Aviation Section most training was conducted with emphasis on flying proficiency—both elementary and operational. Several types of tactical missions were flown.
- (3) Technical & Specialists—Members of these sections functioned very well and were fortunate to have an opportunity for practical application of their specific duties. Although short classes were conducted at camp, there is a definite need for more individuals to attend Army Technical Schools in order to provide experts in their fields and for use as instructors in their units. There is a definite need for trained communications personnel in all components of the Division. In the Light Aviation Section mechanics were trained in practical maintenance. There is a definite lack of radio maintenance technicians due to inadequate provisions in the TO & E.
- (4) Firing of Weapons: The majority of units fired known distance courses at home stations; thus, providing additional time for training which could be conducted only during the field training period. The rifle, carbine, pistol, and BAR were fired at camp by those men not previously qualified this year. Crew-served weapons; light and heavy 30 Cal and 50 Cal machine guns fired 1000” courses; 60mm and 81mm mortar fired the prescribed course; 57mm and 75mm recoilless rifles fired on instructional course, and 90mm tank guns were fired by members of their crews, 3 rounds per man. The 4.2 mortar crews were given all “dry-run” training, because the weapons could not be fired due to failure in the ammunition set-up and the fact that the wrong type of adapters were furnished for firing 60mm shells. Transition firing and combat courses were fired by a large percentage of men of Infantry units. Safety precautions were observed and enforced by all units in an excellent manner. Supervision of firing line by officers and men was satisfactory, but much remains to be done to train all men to be proficient coaches. More preliminary instruction is needed in all individual weapons before the men can fully understand the capabilities of their weapons and before effective fire can be delivered. Preparatory training and results obtained for mortar firing during the encampment were excellent. The training of tank drivers and the firing of 90mm guns were accomplished under the supervision of an Army Instructional Team from The Infantry School, Fort Benning. The 4.2 mortar companies were instructed by a team from the 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, N. C.

Service practice by all Field Artillery units was satisfactory. Some units made remarkable improvement in fire direction and some were unusually well organized at the gun position. Some units were handicapped by the lack of technical knowledge by officers and non-commissioned officers, but the AFF Board Team and other teams furnished by the Third Army did superior work in filling such gaps and imparting valuable organizational and technical instruction.

b. Movement to and from Camp: Movement to and from camps was by rail, bus, and convoys. It was without incident both on the ground and in the air, except for a truck accident in the 30th Signal Company. Convoys illustrated the need of practice in setting the rate of march, distances between vehicles, coordination of movements to prevent double banking and jamming at road junctions. Permitting more officers and men to take their private cars to camps, in the future, will be an addition to morale, even if such cars are impounded while in Camp, except for week-ends.

c. Administration: The administration at Camp was excellent, but was reduced to an absolute minimum; telephone and other means of communication were used where possible. Prior schooling of administrative assistants and company clerks yielded good results and a school was conducted by this office in the preparation of morning reports. The administration on the part of several sections of the Division Staff showed marked improvement over the same sections when in training last year at Fort Bragg. In the Light Aviation Section a Field Operations Officer controlled the field and allied administration in an excellent manner by means of a sound SOP.

d. Assistance by the Post Commander: USP & DO: Assistance by the Post Commander and his Staff was superior and leaves little to be desired from the standpoint of proficient training, functioning of the Post services, and social contacts. Assistance by the USP & DO was very satisfactory and shows a marked improvement over last year's encampment.

2. Adequate or inadequate facilities:

a. General: The use of Fort Jackson for a training center for the 30th Infantry Division in its present state of organization and training is excellent. When the Division is fully organized and at full strength, doubt is expressed as to the adequacy of Fort Jackson of training all arms and services simultaneously particularly if non-divisional units are trained simultaneously, as is shown below.

b. Training areas:

- (1) Infantry—Infantry training areas close-in to camp are non-existent. The training areas at a distance of approximately seven miles were very adequate and adaptable to the type of training conducted. Some units overcame the loss of time involved in traveling back and forth by remaining in the training areas during the period of maneuvers. The facilities on the combat ranges were inadequate in that targets could not be raised or lowered; thus, eliminating the element of surprise. Some time was lost from training due to distances involved in moving to and from the ranges. Shuttle service had to be used.
- (2) Artillery—Close-in areas are inadequate for basic training near the artillery areas. The field training areas are adequate for section training, but entirely inadequate for battalion problems. There is not sufficient space to conduct battalion field problems while service practice is being conducted and while Infantry maneuvers are being participated in. The artillery ranges are inadequate for the amount of artillery that will be present in Camp with a full division, and was further limited by tanks using the central part of same. Short limit of range was too far out to allow adjustment on many visible targets.

c. Equipment for training: Artillery was handicapped in some instances by lack of vehicles, radios, and surveying equipment. Proper training of the 449th F. A. Observation Battalion was possible only because of the AFF Board Team furnishing the equipment. Otherwise, in general, sufficient equipment had been issued and brought to Camp. 57mm and 75mm recoilless rifles and fire-control equipment for heavy tank companies were not received prior to Camp. These deficiencies should be remedied before another field training season.

d. Food Service Program: Generally—excellent. The Camp had adequate food and it was properly prepared. The cooks' and mess sergeants' schools, previously conducted, yielded good results and the Food Service Program could well be considered a standard for future camps.

e. Advance and Rear Detachments: The strength and composition of these were adequate. Cooks and key personnel arrived at Camp in sufficient time to prepare for the arrival of the main body.

f. Adequacy of present allowance of clothing: All instructors unanimously recommend an increase of the present amount of clothing by one pair of socks, one khaki uniform, and one suit of HBT fatigue clothing. The two uniforms and one suit of HBT clothes already issued, despite good laundry service, are inadequate to take care of the needs of the troops in camp. Appearance and morale will be much improved with this increased allowance.

g. PX's, Service Clubs, Recreation Facilities: These services were available in abundance.

h. Training in Supply, Evacuation, Maintenance: First echelon motor maintenance was not enforced due to constant and urgent demands on transportation for movement to various and distant ranges. There was some delay in refueling vehicles at the 30th Division gas station. Another outlet in the Division area should be provided next year. The work of the 3624th Ordnance personnel was outstandingly good in the maintenance of all artillery and ordnance pieces. Some of the service practice and small arms firing were conducted so late in the second week that the weapons could not be properly cleaned three days after firing, as prescribed, and prior to loading for shipment home. Second echelon maintenance on vehicles was generally excellent.

3. Comments as to Training Conducted.

a. Efficiency, intelligence and State of Training of EM: The training program prescribed for the encampment was well thought out and executed. It followed the pattern of preliminary, individual, and crew-served weapon training; firing crew-served weapon; firing combat courses; tactical training of individual; demonstration of the squad attack; tactical training of the squad, section, and platoon; and night bivouacs on a company level which stressed local security. Intelligence training was stressed throughout the entire tactical training by making full use of the aggressor concept. The added realism of blank ammunition and demolitions were stimulating. The average intelligence of the men is considered a representative cross section of the age group in the State. All were anxious and willing to learn.

b. Field Training, Marches, Bivouacs, and Field Problems: All units moved in the bivouac area for three-day periods where the above principles were stressed. Most of the men have little or no field experience. This period of training coupled with sudden changes in weather were beneficial in every respect. The movement of units to bivouac areas and return to camp indicated that more training in organization and the control of motor convoys is needed.

c. Results of Field Training: Generally—satisfactory. Many valuable lessons were learned. Much good was accomplished by training the Division as a unit. Non-divisional units were also greatly benefited. All are in a better condition to pursue armory training for the coming year.

d. Instructions by visiting demonstration teams: The below-listed instructional teams reported to Camp and did exceptionally fine work in their varied fields and contributed most generously to the success of the Camp. It is recommended that this practice be continued:

TEAMS

10th Engr Plt
Heavy Tank Plt
57mm & 75mm Recoilless Rifle
ORD (Tech Instr on Materials)
4.2 Mortar
AAF Board # 1 (For 30th Div Only)
Food Service Instruction Team
Finance Instruction Team

4. Comments, favorable and/or adverse to training conducted: The training conducted was highly satisfactory and in many cases more gratifying than had been expected. Many officers and non-commissioned officers did a good job of instructing, and although handicapped, worked to the best of their ability. There were very few instances of a lack of interest or a lack of preparation or supervision. These instances were localized and are being handled by the Division Commander and his Staff. The most outstanding observation made during the encampment was the willingness and enthusiasm of officers and enlisted men.

6. Recommendations:

a. Unit S-3's should arrive in camp as far in advance of the main body as possible to reconnoiter training areas and ranges before publishing detailed schedules.

b. The range facilities at Fort Jackson are inadequate for use of all divisional and non-divisional troops of North Carolina and Tennessee during the same encampment.

c. There were inadequate facilities for inclement weather training. Unit commanders should publish an inclement weather schedule for at least three days training upon arrival at camp.

d. More officers and non-commissioned officers should be encouraged to attend courses at service schools during fall and winter months.

e. Better facilities should be furnished for loading and unloading tractors and artillery pieces, particularly where same has to be loaded on one flat car and then run from that car to another.

f. The most glaring deficiency in the Light Aviation Section was the lack of coordination between North Carolina and Tennessee prior to camp.

Should this type of camp be repeated, a conference should be arranged prior to camp between the Senior Light Aviation Officers of each State to facilitate better coordination.

g. Unit commanders should plan to include their Light Aviation Sections in more of their field problems in order that they may be properly welded into the combat team.

SUBJECT: Report, Field Training, 1949

TO: The Adjutant General
State of North Carolina
Justice Building
Raleigh, North Carolina

1. In compliance with paragraph 6, General Order No. 32, AGD NC, Raleigh, N. C., dated 1 July 1949, the following report of field training for units of this command at Camp Stewart, Ga., from 23 July 1949—7 August 1949 inclusive is submitted:

2. Movement to and from Field Training Site

a. The movement by units of the 252d AAA Group, NC NG, and attached units for the Field Training Period was executed in twenty (20) serials. There were seven serials in the advance party by motor, six in the main body by motor and seven in the main body by rail.

b. The advance parties from Wilmington, Whiteville, Red Springs, and Raeford, N. C. left their respective home stations at 0700, 21 July 1949. The advance party from Wallace, N. The serials of the main body by motor combined at a pre-arranged bivouac and camped for the night. The bivouac area was located about three (3) miles south of Green Pond, S. C., at Myrtle Grove Plantation, on an unimproved road. The coordinates of the bivouac area are G-3—12.1 as shown on Standard Oil road map (North Carolina-South Carolina, 1948). They departed from the bivouac at 0700, 24 July 1949, arriving Camp Stewart, Ga., at 1100, 24 July 1949.

C. joined this same train at 2234, 23 July 1949. Both of these units arrived Savannah, Ga., 0525, 24 July 1949. These units left Savannah, Ga., on ACL Train #189, 0635, 24 July 1949, arriving Camp Stewart, Ga., 0808, 24 July 1949.

f. The itinerary for the return trip was patterned after the schedule described above in reverse order, with all units arriving 7 August 1949. There was no advance detail on the return trip and the rear detail arrived Wilmington, N. C., 8 August 1949.

g. Proper convoy discipline was observed by the motor movements with rest and meal halts at the correct time. There were no accidents or motor troubles during the motor movement, nor were there any accidents on the rail movement. The train commander checked the train after each movement for breakage and found none. The entire movement both to and from camp was very orderly and was executed in the best possible military manner.

3. Campsite

The camp site for the units of this command was made up of a tent area for living quarters, with buildings for all headquarters, supply rooms, motor repair shops, and mess halls. The enlisted men occupied squad tents while officers were housed in pyramidal tents. Both types of tents had cement floors and electric lights but no screened-in side walls. Drainage this year was very good as some filling had been done since the 1948 encampment. There were very few mosquitoes, clearly demonstrating that control measures had been taken prior to camp. The PX, barber shop, and theatre were easily accessible by foot. Post Headquarters was two miles distant.

4. Supplies

a. Post personnel at Camp Stewart, Ga., helped in every way possible to secure supplies for units of this command. Shortages in T/O & E equipment were not available at camp. The post ordnance greatly facilitated drawing of supplies by furnishing transportation to supplement the small number of vehicles issued to batteries. Supplies in general were drawn with the minimum of delay, with fullest cooperation between camp personnel and personnel of this command. All Post, Camp, and Station property was returned in a quick and orderly manner. Shortages were held to a minimum.

b. There were seven (7) mess halls operated by the various units and the food drawn was ample for all concerned. Officers ate at the Post Officers Mess at a flat rate of $.40 per meal.

5. Training

a. Training, throughout the two week period was carried out according to the approved schedule issued prior to camp, with very few changes. All men showed great interest in all phases of training and were eager to learn. Schools were conducted for communications men, radio operators, battery clerks, first sergeants, and supply personnel. From all reports the schools were very beneficial and well conducted. It was felt that, in view of the availability of ranges at Fort Bragg and Camp Butner for week-end firing, all small arms firing would be completed after camp. Gun batteries fired 90 MM at aerial and ground targets and all AW batteries fired 40 MM and quadruple 50 cal. machine guns at towed sleeves. The 90 MM batteries scored 5 hits on the sleeve targets while 40 MM batteries scored 8 hits. Many 50 cal. machine gun hits were observed on the aerial sleeves during the practice firing.

b. The Group S-2 aided by the Fort Bliss AAA communications instructors trained personnel and put into operation a AAAIS operations board during the firing at towed sleeves with three outposts calling in reports on unfriendly planes.

c. A two day field problem was the highlight of this year's field training. All units moved to and returned from the field positions in an orderly manner in battery convoy. All personnel of this command were in the field except a small element who remained in camp to furnish security for the North Carolina National Guard Area. Radio communications were established between the Group CP and Camp Headquarters. Field messes were set up and food service personnel served excellent meals. In accordance with previously published instructions, C rations were issued and all personnel of this command were so rationed for one day during the field exercise. The regular training schedule was carried out in the field in order to prepare for aerial firing during the second week. Morale in the field was very high and the proficiency of all men increased tremendously.

d. The 94th Army Band, NC NG, was of considerable assistance to this command in gaining maximum benefit from the training schedule. They played for reveille each morning, at retreat, for close order drill periods, and for practice for a parade. A most impressive parade was held on the first Saturday morning in spite of the fact that some of the men had no previous experience in this phase of training. A ceremony was held in which the 94th Army Band, NC NG, was awarded the Eisenhower Trophy for excellence during the year of 1948.

e. A skeleton records section was set up and trained during the entire period with the aim of training other personnel during the forthcoming armory training year and for use with the record firing practice for the 1950 field training period.

f. Post personnel and the AAA instruction team from Fort Bliss, Texas, were very helpful, cooperative and were implemental to successful manner in which the training was carried out.

g. Training for the second field training period was well coordinated and at all times was carried on with the aim of accomplishing all possible training that could not be accomplished with any degree of practicability during armory training.

6. Inspections

During the two weeks camp there were many inspections. It is the feeling of this Headquarters that the type of inspections conducted as well as the obvious interest of the inspecting officers had a profound effect on the attitude of all. The following inspected:

a. Major General J. Van B. Metts, Adjutant General of North Carolina, accompanied by Capt. David W. Donovan, Asst. to the Adjutant General. General Metts stayed for three days during the first week.

b. Col. David Hardee, Senior Army Instructor, North Carolina National Guard.

c. Major General William C. Chase, Chief of Staff, Third Army, Atlanta, Georgia.

d. Major General Mueller, Deputy Commander, Third Army, Atlanta, Georgia.

e. Col. Ralph Russell representing the Inspectors General, Third Army, Atlanta, Georgia, who was in camp for the entire period.

f. Major W. R. Bloxton, Asst. to the Adjutant General for North Carolina.

All inspecting officers seemed well satisfied.

7. Recommendations

The following recommendations are made in a constructive manner for the benefit and best interest of all future National Guard encampments:

a. That mess trays be furnished for all personnel.

b. That tents be walled and screened.

c. That the 94th Army Band, NC NG, be attached for the 1950 field training period.

d. That the AAA Instructors Team from Fort Bliss, Texas, participate in future camps as they did this year.

e. That a team be sent from Fort Bliss, Texas, to train personnel of the Records Section.

f. That an AAA Ordnance company or platoon with spare parts be furnished in addition to motor maintenance.

g. That this command be dispatched at least six jeeps from other units in the state not in camp at the same time for use during the two week period.

h. That an ambulance be made available to this organization for the training period.

i. That the 426th Army Postal Unit (Reserve) be attached for the 1950 field training period.

j. That the overlapping of units in the same areas be eliminated.

k. That representatives of the U.S.P. & D.O. for N.C. attend camp with this organization to expedite the issue and turn in of all property. This practice was observed by other states at the request of the Commanding Officer, Camp Stewart, Georgia.

l. That the Quartermaster at camp give to the S-4 of this command the monetary value of the rations authorized each day and the monetary value of the rations drawn in order that a check may be had against overdrawing the authorized amount of rations.

m. That a service club be set up for EM.

n. That the submission of payrolls be more flexible so that unit personnel sections will not be burdened with this extra administrative load during the field problem.

o. That this Hq be informed well in advance of the number of Reservist to be attached for training.

8. Commendations

a. Col. George M. McMullan and his entire staff at Camp Stewart, Ga., including the AAA Instruction Team from Fort Bliss, Texas, should be highly commended for the fine cooperation given to this command during the entire stay at camp. Post personnel continually exerted themselves in the interest of a successful camp for the troops of this command. The good spirit in which help was given greatly aided the success of the second field training period of AAA units of NC NG and made our stay at Camp Stewart, Georgia, very pleasant and enjoyable.

b. Lt. Col. Frederick L. Van Atta, AAA Army Advisor, NC NG, Wilmington, N. C.; Major Lee M. Kirby, AAA Army Instructor, NC NG, Raeford, N. C. and their assistants who are M Sgt Nicholas Geovinetti, M Sgt. William E. Willis, M Sgt Robert R. Dando, Jr., Sgt 1cl Alvin A. Bischoff, and Sgt. John H. Highsmith should also be highly commended for the great amount of assistance given to all units of this command prior to camp and during the two weeks encampment.

SUBJECT: Report of Field Training, 14-28 August 1949

TO: The Adjutant General
Raleigh, North Carolina

1. Pursuant to paragraph 3, GO No. 39, AGD, NC, dated 29 July 1949, the report of the field training period, 14-28 August 1949, Selective Service Section, Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, NC NG, is respectfully submitted herein.

2. Of the eleven officers who are not on extended active duty one was granted leave of absence per paragraph 1, SO No. 30, AGD, NC, dated 10 August 1949, and the remaining ten reported for duty 14 August. One was granted absence with leave 21-28 August 1949 due to business emergency. The training was carried on in the office of State Headquarters, North Carolina Selective Service System, where records and material were available for training purposes and in accord with the field training schedule, a copy of which is attached.

3. The field training schedule is based on the field training program approved by Colonel David L. Hardee, Acting Senior Army Instructor. It is believed that the schedule and attached problems are self-explanatory with the exception of the training scheduled for 25-26 August 1949 and problem number 2, which was used on 25 August. Attached to problem number 2 are sets covering seven assignments with additional briefing pertaining to each individual assignment and the requirements for each. The officers drew their assignments by lot and proceeded individually and as a staff to evolve the proper solutions. On the following day, 26 August, each officer continued in his assignment of the previous day but was handed five or six minor problems in the form of telegrams, letters, or simulated telephone or personal conversations. These problems were intended not only to develop their knowledge of the function of the divisions to which they were assigned but also to develop an understanding of the interrelation and coordination of the activities of the various divisions.

4. The entire morning of Saturday, 27 August, was devoted to an open discussion of the training period. It was the consensus of the group that the training had been very effective in outlining the operational function of Selective Service from local boards through the State Headquarters. It was generally felt, however, that this training period had been so effective in that phase that the detail of operation at the local board level might be eliminated in the future field training periods in favor of problems of operation of the State Headquarters. The undersigned concurs in this view to the extent that it is felt that a large part of the detailed instruction of the first week regarding operations should be condensed considerably with just a brief summary to reacquaint the group with the details of local board administration and operation. This would require approximately two days and leave the rest of the time to be devoted to problems. The problem method of instruction appears to be the most adequate means of instruction for a group as advanced as this group seems to be. The only objection is that it will present a difficult task to prepare adequate problems for such an extensive training period. However, in this connection we assure you that the staff of the State Headquarters, Selective Service System, will do all that it can in this respect.

5. In summarizing the effectiveness of the field training, it is the opinion of the undersigned that the group acquired a better understanding of the principles, philosophies, and functional processes of Selective Service than heretofore and that the problem method of instruction stimulated a greater interest in the duties for which they are being trained. It is also felt that the problems have created a better understanding of the intricacies of Selective Service staff work even though most of the group has enjoyed previous experience as staff officers. After observation of the group during this two weeks' period, their interest in the work, the way they applied themselves and their method of tackling assigned problems, the undersigned is pleased to advise you that it is his unqualified opinion that they will provide a satisfactory staff for a State Headquarters of Selective Service in event of an emergency.

6. Also attached hereto is a copy of the Morning Report, Selective Service Section, Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, NC NG, for the period 14-28 August 1949.

Respectfully,

THOMAS H. UPTON

HEADQUARTERS 156TH FIGHTER SQUADRON
NORTH CAROLINA AIR NATIONAL GUARD
MORRIS FIELD, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

2 September 1949

SUBJECT: Report of Summer Encampment

TO: The Adjutant General of North Carolina
New Justice Building
Raleigh, North Carolina

1. In compliance with paragraph 6, General Order No. 31, Adjutant General's Department, North Carolina dated 29 June 1949, the following report of activities at summer camp is submitted.

a. The Advance party, consisting of two (2) officers and five (5) airmen with several volunteers, departed by military vehicle from Morris Field at 0400E on 13 July 1949 and arrived at 0745E on 14 July 1949, having elected to continue driving instead of spending the night enroute as planned.

b. The main motor convoy departed Morris Field at 0330E on 16 July 1949, arriving at Epler Auxiliary Field No. 7 at 1800E on 17 July 1949, after spending the night at Warner Robins Air Force Base, Georgia.

c. Personnel traveling by rail assembled at Morris Field at 1700E on 16 July 1949, were taken by commercial bus to the Depot and entrained, departing Charlotte, N. C. at 1915E on schedule, arriving at Crestview, Florida at 2130E, four and one-half (4½) hours late. Upon detraining, the men were taken by commercial bus to Epler Auxiliary Field No. 7, arriving around 2400E. This forced the men to go without eating from noon until after midnight, although the food had been ready at the Mess since 1800E, the expected arrival time of the buses.

d. The Air echelon departed Morris Field at approximately 1000E on 17 July 1949, having been held for several hours by foul weather, and flew by way of Columbia, South Carolina and Valdosta, Georgia to circumnavigate thunderstorms, arriving Epler Auxiliary Field No. 7 approximately 1300E.

e. Shortly after arrival, the undersigned was designated Base Commander of Epler Field, in addition to his other duties. The 155th Fighter Squadron from Memphis, Tennessee shared the Base with the 156th Fighter Squadron and cooperated very well.

f. USAF had previously informed all Squadrons that a test to determine the actual combat efficiency of each Fighter Group would be conducted during summer camp. During this test, everything that tended to lower the efficiency of the Groups would be noted and scored. If there was a supply shortage, lack of equipment, or if the aircraft lacked certain armament or performance characteristics, these were to count against the outfit, even though they could not be helped. In addition, the exact dates of this "ORT" were to be announced at the last minute prior to actual commencement of the Operational Readiness Test. The Squadron was informed definitely at 2100E on 18 July 1949 that the Operational Readiness Test for the 118th Fighter Group would commence on 0001E on 19 July 1949, and the next three (3) hours were busy ones. Special guards were arranged, internal security doubled with our handful of Military Policemen supplemented from other shorthanded departments, and the Fighters loaded with ammunition, using improvised lights to work by. The planes and the pilots were ready to go at first light, although the crews had to work all night long to ready them. Then it rained. For four (4) days it rained. Little drops, cloudbursts, drizzles, fog—every known type of water fell, except sleet and snow—we even had a little hail. Missions were briefed and ready to go, but the field was closed. Then the weather over the field would improve a little, but the ranges would be covered with fog. Missions were changed around on account of weather. We loaded painted ammunition for air-to-air gunnery, but the range was closed. We loaded plain ammunition for air-to-ground instead, without tracers, as they would set the ranges on fire. Then we had to unload all guns, as an escort mission had been substituted. The (USAF) Radar Controller was off the air for the day, so the intercept mission had to be aborted. Still it rained. And so on for four (4) days. In addition, it was discovered that the gasoline in underground storage tank at Epler Field No. 7 (and at Biancor No. 6, where Headquarters 118th Fighter Group and 105th Fighter Squadron were stationed, as well) was contaminated with rust and contained sand. This necessitated refueling our refueling trailers from the commercial tanker truck sent to fill the underground storage tank. A plan, carefully coordinated by Base Supply, successfully prevented any time being lost or planes grounded for lack of fuel.

g. Although the 116th Fighter Group made a higher score by four (4) points, it is the general feeling that our Group did as well or better than the 116th Fighter Group which had no Air-Bases to operate, since the 54th Wing ran their base for them, while the 118th Fighter Group had to operate two Air-Bases, in addition to their other duties. The results of the Operational Readiness Test, while leaving much room for continued improvement, were highly gratifying as a whole, and aroused considerable pride among the Guardsmen. It is the considered opinion of the undersigned that the North Carolina Guardsmen did as well as any outfit there (to be honest, we're sure we were better than any other).

h. The Operational Readiness Test, while testing combatability to maintain continuous combat operations for four (4) days, also had the effect of reducing actual flying time considerably, and were able to log only nine hundred eight (908) hours during the fifteen (15) days. Since our refueling units had to be loaded on the flat cars for return to home station by Friday of the second week, flying ceased on Thursday, and the Fighters left Eglin Friday afternoon to fly from Charlotte, Shaw Field and Greenville Air Force Base during Saturday and Sunday. Thus the train movement of heavy equipment cost us curtailed operations at Morris Field for the week prior to camp, the week after camp, and two days' flying off each end of camp.

i. The first week-end of camp was given to the Guardsmen as their first time off since arrival, since everyone was restricted to the Base during the Operational Readiness Test. On Saturday 23 July 1949 trucks were run to Eglin Main Base where a special demonstration of latest and most spectacular Air Force planes and weapons had been arranged. This was most interesting. The rest of the week-end was free time.

j. In almost every department the improvement over last year's operations was quite evident, and continued training and additional strength should show additional improvement next year.

k. The second week of camp was devoted to aerial gunnery for the experienced pilots, and check-outs and proficiency flights for the greener ones. On-the-job training was in progress all during maneuvers, and produced some fine results, both in training of the fledgling Guardsmen and in raising their morale by increasing their importance to the Squadron in their own eyes. Many distinguished visitors and VIP's visited Epler Field, especially during the Operational Readiness Test. Chief among these, in addition to Major General J. Van B. Metts, the Adjutant General of North Carolina, were Major General Kenneth F. Cramer, Chief, National Guard Bureau; Major General George G. Finch, Chief, Air Division, National Guard Bureau; Brigadier General McConnell, Reserve Components, USAF; Brigadier General Ralph E. Stearley, Commanding General, Fourteenth Air Force and Colonel James E. Riley, Commanding Officer, 54th Fighter Wing. In addition, many inspection teams, including the Operational Readiness Team headed by Colonel Buck, inspected every activity with a careful eye. All Federally recognized personnel were paid on Friday 29 July 1949 at 1400E, and Guardsmen returned to Morris Field by same mode of transportation as they departed.

2. The following suggestions and recommendations are presented for your approval and such action as appears fitting:

a. The Advance Detachment authorized is woefully inadequate for the purpose. When an Air Base must be activated and operated, as in this case, a minimum of three (3) officers and ten (10) airmen should be authorized. The assistance of several privates, who volunteered to help without pay, made possible our preparation of the Base prior to arrival of main parties. Increase in this authorization is of vital importance to the Air Guard, since the Operational Readiness Test does not allow any points for lack of people and facilities to open and operate the Bases, but at the same time is given to the regular USAF Groups on their home bases where every conceivable housekeeping burden is taken care of by Base Personnel. The Guard can still get by, but we should remove each little handicap possible prior to Operational Readiness Test, in order to show truer comparison with USAF Fighter Groups.

b. It is recommended that all personnel be moved to camp site by air, as would likely be the case in emergency. There are trained officers and men enough in the Guard who can efficiently handle troop train movements, and this one was noted for its failure to maintain schedule. One meal was missed enroute to camp and two meals were improvised by troop train Commander when train returned to Charlotte ten hours and forty minutes late. When one's whole time for maneuvers is limited to fifteen (15) days, let's get all fifteen (15) in camp!

c. As an alternative to (b) above, in case Air Transportation is not available, allow TPA for 20% of the command, 20% to travel by air with Squadron planes, 15% by military vehicle, and the other 65% by private car. The saving to the National Guard Bureau at this camp would have been tremendous. Train fare was forty-one ($41.00) dollars per man for one-hundred two (102) men. Twenty-six (26) cars at four (4) men to the car, $36.00/car round trip would have done the same job for $936.00, where the train cost $4,182.00, plus baggage car. In addition, less transportation to recreation spots would have been needed and money saved there. Last, but not least, the citizen soldier, who gave up his vacation to go to camp, will be assured of a chance to have a vacation of sorts, even if he is in a hole-in-the-swamps like Epler, thirty to forty miles from civilization. It is felt that we who have other vacation time to spend with our families are too prone to overlook this point. These men have often made a real sacrifice, and in too many cases suffer a monetary loss as well. They deserve every consideration to make their off-duty hours more pleasant—which in turn raises the percentage of camp attendance and morale of the Unit. In any case, it is recommended that at least 10% of a command be authorized TPA.

d. It is strongly recommended that every effort be expended to indoctrinate the public to the value of the National Guard, in the sacrifices of time all Guardsmen make in the interests of their State and Country, and in the fact that some Guardsmen lose money by attending summer encampment because their employers have no military leave program or compensation program. This should be on a National, State and Local level, and could be carried forward with funds now used for advertising space and time in Recruiting. Far better to improve the Guardsman's lot through education of the public, and then the Guardsmen will do our recruiting.

e. This matter of military leave policy for industry is a vital problem to the Unit Commander. At least ten (10%) per cent of this command, for example, requested excuse from summer encampment because a definite loss of money would result, and it was necessary to show these men figures for their entire year as a Guardsman to justify refusal. In addition to these requests, many others lost money but made no effort to get excused from camp. This is a matter which deserves the full backing of the Adjutants General, Governors and the National Guard Bureau in planning and executing a program which will establish such military leave policies for Reserve Components throughout the Nation.

NORTH CAROLINA AIR NATIONAL GUARD
ENCAMPMENT AT OAFB, FLORIDA

6 August—21 August 1949

Narrative Report

Prior to summer encampment a plan had been proposed by the 14th Air Force (AF) and agreed upon by the 154th Aircraft Control and Warning Group (AC&W Gp) for the field training of Air National Guard (ANG) A C & W units. This plan was to superimpose squadrons of the 154th A C & W Group on like squadrons of the 539th A C & W Group, the regular AF control and warning (C&W) Group stationed at Orlando Air Force Base (OAFB) Florida. Each individual in the 154th AC&W Group was to have a counterpart in the 539th AC&W Group and the entire training period was to be spent with the individual in the ANG units actually operating in his position and with his counterpart in the regular AF coaching him in his job.

The 154th AC&W Group was organized at a Group Headquarters, Ga ANG; the 116th Aircraft Control (AC) Squadron Ga ANG; which operates an air defense control center (ADCC); the 117th AC&W Squadron Ga ANG, which operates two (2) Ground Control Interception (GCI) stations; and the 118th AC&W Squadron NC ANG, which operates two (2) GCI stations, and one (1) Light Weight Early Warning Radar (LWEW) station.

The 539th AC&W Group was organized as a Group Headquarters; the 649th AC Squadron which operates an ADCC, the 650th AC&W Squadron which operates a GCI station, the 651st AC&W Squadron which operates a GCI station, and the 652nd AC&W Squadron which operates as a school squadron. The 649th AC Squadron had in operation a plotting equipment AN/TTQ1 and its counterpart was the 116th AC Squadron. The 650th AC&W Squadron had in operation a radar set AN/CPS-6 and its counterpart was the 117th AC&W Squadron. The 651st had in operation a Radar Set AN/CPS-4 and a Radar Set AN/CPS-5 and its counterpart was the 118th AC&W Squadron.

Upon arrival at camp it was found that the 539th AC&W Group had changed its training plan to compromise for the difference in the two units. The new plan was to put ANG units into MOS schools for three days and to have only the operative personnel (MOS 510, 514, 953, 1014) train on the plotting and radar equipment for the balance of the encampment. The other MOS personnel with the exception of the administrative personnel would remain in MOS schools. Administrative personnel would do actual on the job training. The training for the 118th AC&W Squadron was as follows:

Personnel with an MOS of 759, 776, 766, 055 were in MOS schools for the entire encampment.

Cooks and cooks helpers were assigned to a consolidated group mess hall. Motor pool personnel were assigned to a consolidated group motor pool.

Supply personnel in training were assigned to a consolidated group supply school.

Administrative personnel did on the job training in the 118th AC&W Squadron Headquarters.

All other personnel were sent to MOS schools for three (3) days and then split into three (3) groups operating (a)—the AN/CPS-4,5 at the 651st AC&W Squadron, (b)—the AN/TPS-1B,10 of the 652nd AC&W Squadron, (c)—A Navy SQ Radar Set brought to camp by the 118th AC&W Squadron.

In the field training of operating personnel, every effort was made to have the man work in the position he has been in training for.

The two (2) GCI stations of the 118th actually operated GCI. The LWEW station of the 118th actually operated a LWEW station. All stations operated under and were controlled by ADCC. Due to the limited facilities at the 651st and 652nd squadron the excess personnel of the LWEW station set up and operated a Navy SQ Radar Set which is to be their training equipment until T/E equipment is obtained.

It was obvious from the beginning of the encampment that the 14th AF and the 539th AC&W Group had made very careful and complete plans for the training of ANG troops. Radar and communications equipment had been set up and operating. A complete training schedule, including subjects to be covered and lesson plans, had been prepared. All troops were oriented on the operations of an AC&W Group before beginning the training on individual equipments.

The training plan was carried out in an excellent manner. An early difficulty was in the operation of the consolidated mess. Not enough time had been allowed on the schedule for the noon meal to enable operating personnel to eat and return to classes. This was corrected by allowing the operating personnel to eat first and administrative personnel to follow.

Some difficulty was experienced in keeping the Radar equipments in operation at all times. When the sets were inoperative, simulated flights were used and the training continued. The training at the 118th AC&W Squadron was the best received to date. Personnel operated Radar and Communications equipment, operated as units, and operated with a group. It pointed out the difficulty of training AC&W troops without radar and communications equipment, and without aircraft to plot and control.

The Summer Training period could have been improved had the 539th AC&W Group had more equipment and personnel to train ANG troops. For operating personnel to be trained the radar sets must be in operation. For technical personnel to be trained radar sets must be inoperative. Both types of personnel cannot be trained on one Radar Set and receive maximum training. The 118th AC&W Squadron had two (2) GCI stations to train and only one (1) piece of equipment; consequently one group was idle some of the time and with no provision to utilize this idle time.

Constant checks assured that progress was being made in the training of operating personnel. In some cases progress was much more than had been expected. Det "C" (LWEW) was highly commended for their work with the AN.TPS-1B,10.

While at camp, all of the base recreational facilities were available to the officers and men of the ANG, i.e., Officer's Club, NCO Club, Service Club, Post Exchange, Theatre, Hobby Shop, and lakes for swimming and fishing.

§ 127-111. Authority to organize and maintain state guard of North Carolina.

1. Whenever the president of the United States shall order or call all or any part of the national guard of the state into active federal service, the governor is authorized, subject to such regulations as the secretary of war may prescribe, to organize such part of the unorganized militia as a state force, for discipline and training, into companies, battalions, or regiments, as may be deemed necessary for the defense of the state; to maintain, uniform, and equip such military force within the appropriation available; to exercise discipline in the same manner as is now or may be hereafter provided by the state laws for the national guard; to train such force in accordance with training regulations issued by the war department. 4. Such force shall not be called, ordered, or in any manner drafted, as such, into the military service of the United States, but no person shall by reason of his membership in any such unit or organization be exempted from military service under any federal law.

5. Upon the disbandment of the state guard any monies or balance to the credit of the units of this organization shall be paid into the state treasury for the benefit of the national guard, and all property, clothing, and equipment belonging to the state shall be transferred to the account of the national guard for disposition in accordance with the best interests of the state and as deemed advisable by the governor. Upon the disbandment of any one or more units of the state guard on a date prior to the disbandment of the entire organization, the governor is authorized to have transferred any state property or balance of funds of said disbanded units to any new unit or units organized to fill such vacancies, or otherwise as the governor may direct.

The provisions of §§ 127-84, 127-85 and 127-102, as amended, shall not be applicable to the personnel and units of the state guard.

7. (a) There shall be allowed annually to each unit or company of the state guard such funds as may be necessary to be applied to the payment of armory rent, heat, light, stationery, printing, and other expenses. The allowance to each unit annually will not exceed $600.00.

(b) All payments are to be made by the adjutant general in accordance with state laws in semi-annual installments on the first day of July and the first day of January of each year, but no payment shall be made unless all drills and parades required by law are duly performed by all organizations named.

(c) The commanding officer of all organizations participating in the appropriation herein named shall render an itemized statement of all funds received from any source whatsoever for the support of their respective organizations in such manner and on such forms as may be prescribed by the adjutant general. Failure on the part of any officer to submit promptly, when due, the financial statement of his organization will be sufficient cause to withhold all appropriations for such organizations. (1931, c. 43.)

4. A number of local physicians within the State have offered to make the physical examination of enlisted men at a cost not to exceed $2.00 per man, and due to the availability of funds in the State Budget, it is desired, if practicable, not to exceed this amount.

2. Armory Inspections will be made in two (2) parts: An administrative inspection of armory facilities, property, official records, and general administration. The organization commander, first sergeant, caretaker, supply sergeant, and company clerks will be present at the Armory at the time designated for the administrative inspection. There will also be an inspection of the state of training of all personnel of the organization and the adequacy of equipment. The time devoted to the training inspection should not exceed the time required in a normal armory drill period. The hours of those two parts of the inspection will be set by arrangement between the unit commander and the inspecting officer.

3. All property, arms, clothing and equipment will be thoroughly cleaned and put in good condition. Property in supply rooms and individual lockers will be neatly and carefully arranged, in order that the inspecting officer may check their condition without a loss of time.

4. Attendance at inspection is compulsory. A report of all absentees from inspection by reason of unavoidable causes, such as sickness, etc., will be rendered to the inspecting officers. Absentees without leave of absence will be dealt with in accordance with the Law. Officers and enlisted men temporarily absent from their home stations on the date of inspection of their organization may be attached for inspection to any other organization, provided the necessary arrangements are made with the Adjutant General by the immediate Commanding Officers and notice given the Inspector to whom they are to report.

5. The inspection will be formal. The unit commanders will review carefully Sec. II, NGR 48, TBIG 1-8, 20 January 1948, and present the unit for inspection according to the directives contained therein.

6. The expense enjoined is necessary in the military service.

2. The above blocks are allotted by The Adjutant General of North Carolina to National Guard units for assignment by unit commanders to enlisted men without prior service in the Regular Army or the Army of the United States.

3. Enlisted men of the National Guard who have served previously as enlisted men in the Regular Army or the Army of the United States or who were called or ordered into Federal Service while members of the National Guard will upon proof be assigned the serial number allotted them while in the Federal Service.

4. When an individual who has served both as an officer and as an enlisted man in the Regular Army or the Army of the United States enters active duty as an enlisted man in the National Guard, his enlisted Army serial number will be used. When an individual who has served only as a commissioned officer in the Regular Army or in the Army of the United States enters the National Guard as an enlisted man, a number will be assigned to him from the block of serial numbers allocated to the unit for newly enlisted members.

5. The Army Serial Number should follow each enlistetd man's name on the initial rosters and all subsequent rosters (Form 100). Pending receipt of the newly revised form, serial number will be placed immediately following the individual's name or in "Remarks" if space is insufficient. Care must be taken to insure that the correct and proper serial number is used in all instances.

6. Sufficient serial numbers have been allotted to each unit to fill its needs adequately for several years, and a large portion of the block has been retained in The Adjutant General's Office for allotment to newly authorized and organized units or for supplementing blocks which have been previously assigned to units but exhausted by the personnel turnover within the unit.

7. Each headquarters assigned a block of serial numbers will maintain a record of the assigned serial numbers showing to whom they were assigned, and will be able to render a report, at any time, of unassigned serial numbers.

8. Inactivated units which have unassigned serial numbers remaining in their allotted blocks will report them to the State Adjutant General for reallocation to other units as needed.

9. Individuals assigned serial numbers by the National Guard will carry such numbers in the Federal service. The serial number originally and properly assigned to an individual will not be reassigned.

STATUS OF STATE GUARD AND NATIONAL GUARD ORGANIZATIONS TO BE READ TO ENLISTED PERSONNEL

It is realized that in the desire of our State Guard units to be deactivated, some may have been concerned that certain units have either been deactivated at this time or that they are scheduled for deactivation within the next few weeks.

Our plan is that when a unit of the National Guard passes Federal inspection for Federal recognition, the State Guard unit of that community will be deactivated. We have the personal equipment in our warehouses for immediate shipment to units that have been Federally recognized, but also realizing that it may take from 60 to 90 days for the War Department to have arms and such equipment shipped the units direct from the Depots. This being the case, it is our purpose to transfer rifles, bayonets, and appurtenances from the State Guard unit to the National Guard unit, as a temporary measure, so that they may be equipped as a State protective force. Such rifles and appurtenances will be taken up at a later date or at such time as the unit equipment may be furnished by the Depot.

For your further information, the following units of the North Carolina National Guard have been inspected and recommended for Federal Recognition:

In addition to the above, there are 30 additional units with authority to organize and are in the process of organization.

It is anticipated that practically all of these 30 units will have been inspected for Federal Recognition by the middle or end of next June.

Realizing further that the units of the National Guard should have a little opportunity for training with the rifles, in order to maintain a protective force, we could not deactivate the entire State Guard. Until such time, though we may be wrong in our estimate, we anticipate that approximately by the end of June, we should have sufficient organizations and strength of the National Guard to enable us to deactivate the entire State Guard.

In the meantime, it is the desire that the State Guard units, the majority of the men of which, have had a background of training in internal security, will maintain a normal state of readiness for any eventuality. Realizing your anxiety for deactivation, you may know that it is our purpose to carry out these plans as soon as practical.

The above is given as information to you that you may better understand that which is taking place.

J. VAN B. METTS,
The Adjutant General.

MEMORANDUM—NORTH CAROLINA STATE GUARD—1947

The National Guard having entered active Federal Service 16 September 1940, in early 1941 the State Guard was created and its organization begun. The mission of the State Guard was a continued military organization as a State protective force. There were organized 42 Infantry companies with an established maximum strength authorized of 2400 men. These companies were organized in battalions, later regiments, and eventually into a brigade. James W. Jenkins of Henderson, North Carolina, who as a Major commanded a battalion of the 120th Infantry, 30th Division in World War I, was appointed as brigade commander. Colonel William W. Sharp, Jr., of Durham was assigned to command of the 1st Regiment; Colonel James W. Howell of Waynesville was assigned to command of the 2nd Regiment; and Colonel Zeno G. Hollowell of Goldsboro was assigned to command of the 3rd Regiment. Colonel Sharp was for many years an officer of the old National Guard; Colonel Howell commanded a battalion of Infantry in World War I; and Colonel Hollowell was a company commander, 119th Infantry in World War I. These were all officers of military experience and were substantial business men of the State.

Since Selective Service was inducting men of military age into the Armed Forces, the personnel of the State Guard necessarily were, generally, men of older age and some who could not technically qualify physically for Federal service. The officer personnel of the State Guard, as well as the enlisted men, serving without compensation, showed a deep interest in this patriotic service to the State and took their training in all seriousness. The State Guard was trained more particularly for internal security, yet it had that general training which fitted it for any emergency, such as an attack by the enemy on the State coast line or any sabotage which may have developed in the number of plants operating in the interest of the Government. Plans were well laid by the Commander of the Office of Internal Security of the State with Headquarters at Fort Bragg, and in consultation with the Adjutant General of the State for the use of the State Guard in such an emergency. Fortunately, no such enemy attacks either from the water or the air developed, nor was there necessity for the use of the Guard in connection with any disturbances or sabotage at the plants. The State Guard was subject to the orders of the Governor in any case of State emergency in which he found it necessary to use a force in assistance to local civil governments. Throughout the War period and the existence of the State Guard, there were no serious disturbances necessitating the use of the State's armed forces.

There were naturally changes in the enlisted personnel of the Guard from time to time due to business reasons, removal of residence, and the fact that some men, subject to Selective Service, were inducted. It has been realized that a large number of those enlisted men who received their first military training in the State Guard and were later inducted into the Federal service, found that this training fitted them for quick promotions, and in many instances they were appointed commissioned officers.

The strength of the State Guard at the end of 1943 was approximately 1900 men; in 1944—2128; in 1945—1857; and in 1946—1619 men. Only two or three units of the State Guard were disbanded for causes, such as insufficient strength, lack of armory facilities, or lack of officer personnel during these years. In such cases units were organized in other localities to fill the vacancy.

Beginning with 10 May 1947, we started the disbandment of a number of individual State Guard units, due to the fact that we had reorganized new National Guard units at the home station of such State Guard units. (Note: Attached are orders dated 30 April, 9 June, 30 June, showing the units so deactivated. The General Order, June 30, is the final order which disbands the remaining units and thereby disbands the entire State Guard organization, effective 15 July 1947.)

It is hard to express in words the value of the State Guard to the State and the local communities throughout the War years. Although called upon for State service only once during the time, the fact that this well-organized and trained force existed and was ready for any emergency into which called, had a quieting effect upon the lawless. The officer personnel gave a great amount of time and thought to the maintenance and training of their companies and were most enthusiastic in this voluntary service they were rendering the State. The enlisted personnel, showing a great interest in the same voluntary service, had the inspiration to perfect themselves for any emergency which they felt might arise.

In July, 1942, there was held at the armory at Henderson, a camp of instructions for officers and non-commissioned officers, and in August 1942, at Gastonia, a similar camp was held—each of these being for seven days duration. A definite program of training was provided and carried on most efficiently. July 18-28, 1943, a camp of instructions for the entire State Guard was held at Fort Bragg July 6-16, 1944, the guard also attended camp at Fort Bragg, and July 10-22, 1945, a similar camp was held at Fort Bragg. The last camp of instruction for the entire State Guard was held at Camp Pendleton, Virginia, 15-23 August 1946. These camps held for two or three days an intensive training of officer and non-commissioned officer personnel, and embodied all phases of military training—yet internal security training was stressed.

The respective Governors during the period of service of the State Guard have expressed themselves in open letters to the commanding officers in deep appreciation not only for the existence of this organization, but also for the valued, earnest, conscientious, and patriotic service being rendered the State by the officers and enlisted men. As a token of appreciation for this service, the State provided those men who had been faithful in drill and camp attendance and in general efficiency, an attractive ribbon bar to be worn with the uniform. Several thousand of these bars were issued.

The Adjutant General of the State, recognizing the unselfish and splendid service of all members of the State Guard, has expressed his appreciation and again desires to say to all who have taken part in the creation and maintenance of this military force that in his experience for several years in dealing with the military of the State that the State Guard, organized and maintained without remuneration, has rendered the State a service comparable with that of those who entered the Federal forces. He wishes to express again his gratification and to extend to all concerned his deep appreciation for their loyalty and efficiency in this service. Whereas regimental and battalion commanders, as well as commanders of companies and staff officers, all gave much time and thought to their duties and are to be highly commended, Brig. Gen. James W. Jenkins, the Brigade Commander, gave unstintingly of his time, thought, to molding the entire organization into an effective military force. Without his valuable assistance, the Adjutant General, who during this period was also serving as State Director of Selective Service, could not have built this organization up to that high degree of efficiency which it attained.

SUBJECT: National Guard Day

TO: Members of the North Carolina National Guard

1. The President of the United States and the Governor of North Carolina have proclaimed September 16, 1948 as National Guard Day to honor those who have served and those who are now serving their country in the National Guard, the Nation's first line defense.

2. The National Guard has a long and distinguished history. Its tradition of citizen-soldiers serving their homeland in times of emergency goes back to 1636. The history of North Carolina is dotted with the names of its sons who have served as citizen-soldiers both at home and abroad. Their service to the State and Nation is a constant source of pride. In war the National Guard has fought in every conflict in which our country has been engaged, in peace the National Guard has fought both fire and flood bringing relief to thousands of the disaster-stricken.

3. Out of its long service has come a motto, "The National Guard Defends America". Those words we should always remember. They stand for the principles upon which our Nation was founded, citizens serving as volunteers to community, to State, and to Nation.

4. We urge that you make every effort to take an active part in the observance of National Guard Day, September 16, 1948. Local plans for an Open-House, or some ceremony at the armory or other public place will be a distinct aid in the focusing of public attention on the observance of National Guard Day.

In the meantime, it is well that officers concerned give consideration to the selection of an officer or enlisted man to fill the position; such officer or enlisted man must be a member of the North Carolina National Guard. Company-sized unit assistants will be noncommissioned officers whose salaries will run between approximately $2500 and $2900. Assistants for those headquarters entitled to same will be an officer from rank of Captain to Lieutenant Colonel and salaries will run from approximately $4000 to $6000. These officers and men will probably not be paid the maximum annual salary authorized except that the one appointed be thoroughly competent for the position as set forth in Job Sheet submitted by the Bureau. Copy of this Job Sheet is attached for your information.

Administrative assistant will be provided for the purpose of relieving the Commanding Officers of the administrative load now placed upon them, yet, does not relieve the Commanding Officer of any of his responsibilities. He should be in close touch with his assistant and should instruct and supervise him in all matters.

Commanders of battalions within regiments and battalions assigned to groups are not entitled to administrative assistants, however, a non-commissioned officer furnished these headquarters units will be available to assist such battalion commanders.

J. VAN B. METTS,
The Adjutant General.

SECTION I —Administrative Pay

SECTION II —Unit Funds

SECTION III—Service Under Selective Service Act

SECTION IV—Care & Protection of Federal Property

SECTION V —Armory Drills

The attention of Unit Commanders is called, at this time, to certain important matters pertaining to their Command.

SECTION I

ADMINISTRATIVE PAY

1. Certain officers of the National Guard are authorized, by the Department of the Army, administrative function pay and WD NGB Form 367 (Armory Drill Pay Roll) has thereon a certificate to be signed by certain Commanding Officers, and in some cases by the Adjutant General. This certificate is quoted:

"I CERTIFY that each officer claiming administrative function pay on this pay roll was actually and properly in command of this organization and faithfully performed the administrative functions in connection therewith during each period for which administrative function pay is claimed. I further certify that the employment of the persons named on the within pay roll is not prohibited by any provisions of law limiting the availability of the appropriations involved."

2. It is noted that this certificate certifies that the one claiming administrative function pay was in Command of his organization and faithfully performed administrative functions in connection therewith during each period for which the administrative function pay is claimed. Should an officer signing such certificate have knowledge of the fact that administration, as indicated, was not properly performed, it would not be in order that he sign such certificate. Pay Roll Form 100 and Training Schedules are among those matters required to have attention at certain periods. Where there is a failure to perform administrative duties of an office, excuses for such failure, though plausible, do not over-ride the fact that there has been a failure to perform, and would not justify the certifying officer in signing the certificate.

SECTION II

UNIT FUNDS

1. The Commanding Officers of units are responsible for receipt and expenditure of all monies, from whatsoever source, paid in for the benefit of the military unit. Receipts and disbursements should be entered properly on the Council Book. Vouchers, in duplicate, (Form 14-A) should be prepared and signed by the concern from which purchases were made. Items purchased should be entered on the voucher or the sales slip, or bill rendered should be attached to the voucher. There is no objection in the case of purchases embodying several small amounts, such as postage or items of .50¢ to $1.00 or $2.00 being embodied in one voucher listing the items, and voucher made out to the Unit Commander or some other person for reimbursement; however, it is a bad practice for Unit Commanders to make vouchers payable to himself for larger amounts, unless receipted bills for the items included be attached. The Unit Officers compose the Unit Council and the Commanding Officer is the responsible officer. The Council Book should be kept up-to-date and vouchers secured for each item thereon. The Council should audit the accounts monthly.

2. State, or unit-owned property in the possession of the unit, should be properly listed in the front of the Council Book. Accounts current, (Form 14) are rendered semi-annually as of June 30 and December 31. Such accounts properly prepared from records on the Council Book and submitted to the Adjutant General's Department, N. C., should be accompanied by a copy of all vouchers, bank statement and canceled checks. The canceled checks and bank statements will be returned after check of the accounts.

SECTION III

SERVICE UNDER SELECTIVE SERVICE ACT

1. Under provisions of the Selective Service Act of 1948, as passed by the Congress, those men, members of the National Guard, who are within the draft ages are required to faithfully attend drills, camps of instruction, and to receive the training prescribed. It is the responsibility of the Unit Commander to see that such men perform their duties and take the training offered. One who consistently absents himself from drills and camps is not entitled to deferment under the Act of Congress. Notices to the Selective Service Board concerned should be given by the Unit Commander of men discharged or severing their connection within the purview of this law.

SECTION IV

CARE & PROTECTION OF FEDERAL PROPERTY

1. The commanding, or responsible, officer is charged with the care and protection of all property. Property received should be carefully checked. The USP&DO should be notified of any shortages. Property should be retained in the Supply Room or other designated places and kept in an orderly manner. That property issued to individuals should be charged on WD Form 32 and these records maintained. Individual lockers of men, where such are used, should be checked from time to time to see that property issued the man is there. Shortages occur where men are permitted to keep their uniforms at home. The man who takes his uniform out to be cleaned should do so with proper authority and at the next drill the matter checked to see that the uniform is returned to the proper place. In case it is necessary for men to take uniforms or individual equipment from the armory, the certificate required by NGB Logistics Bulletin No. 6, 22 April 1948 must be signed in all cases.

2. In a few cases of responsible officers severing their connection with the guard, unusual and un-necessary shortages have developed involving a large money value. A responsible officer should see that the Supply Sergeant, and such junior officers as he may assign to supervision of property matters under his direction, check property received promptly and maintain it in good condition. Any part of the uniform, for instance, which is torn or worn out through fair wear and tear should be returned by the individual to the Supply Room and such property kept to itself, and later put on a Property Turn-In Slip for action by an Inspecting Officer. The Unit Commander is responsible for preparing and submitting reports of surveys for loss or damaged property.

3. Accounting for Federal property is a difficult matter, but it has been proven over a period of years that it can be done without large shortages.

SECTION V

ARMORY DRILLS

1. Regulations provide that armory drills be conducted for a period of not less than two (2) hours; this to be in training and exclusive of rest and interruptions. Officers and men are to be present for the full period of training and all in uniform, except new officers or men not yet issued uniforms. Time consumed in issuing pay checks or uniforms (except to a few men), general discussions, and other interruptions of a non-training nature must be in addition to the two-hour training period.

2. Commanding Officers should have prepared, in advance, the Schedule of Training for each drill and prepared to put it into effect without delays. Having men standing idle awaiting a next move tires men and causes lack of interest more than is sometimes realized.

3. Instructor personnel are required, under regulations, to check the number present for drill, to report on the conduct of training, and to certify to those present and entitled to pay. National Guard Commanders should realize that their failure to conform to Regulations in respect to these matters places an instructor sometimes in an embarrassing position, as well as to retard training of his command.

5. If the transferring custodian has been incapacitated to a degree where he is unable to transfer the Unit Fund, the subject fund will be closed and the Adjutant General, N. C. notified of such condition and he, in turn, will designate an officer to inspect the account to be transferred to the succeeding custodian. Should the transferring officer fail to properly accomplish the transfer as herein provided, the receiving officer may decline to receive the fund until the Adjutant General has been notified and action directed.

MEMORANDUM

19 September 1949

APPOINTMENT OF ENLISTED MEN IN THE NORTH CAROLINA
NATIONAL GUARD TO COMPETE FOR ADMISSION TO THE UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY

1. An act of Congress approved 4 May 1916, provides for the appointment of enlisted men of the National Guard as cadets at the United States Military Academy. It has been ascertained that there will be approximately fifteen (15) vacancies from this source available on 1 July 1950 to enlisted men of the National Guard. The Governor of North Carolina has been requested to select one candidate from among the enlisted men of the North Carolina National Guard, as a result of a preliminary competitive mental examination conducted prior to 15 November 1949 similar in scope to the regular entrance examination for the United States Military Academy, for appointment as a candidate to compete for admission to the United States Military Academy.

2. Under existing laws and regulations, candidates must conform to the following requirements:

- a. Citizenship. The candidate must be a citizen of the United States.
- b. Age. As of 1 July 1949, the candidate must have reached his 19th, but not his 22nd birthday (24th birthday in the case of a candidate who has served honorably not less than 1 year in the armed forces of the United States during any of the present wars).
- c. Marital Status. The candidate must be unmarried and must never have been married.
- d. Previous Education. The candidate must have graduated from high school or achieved the equivalent education. It is desirable but not mandatory that the high school education or its equivalent include high school algebra and plane geometry.

- e. Character. The candidate must be of excellent character.
- f. Service. The candidate must be an enlisted man of a Federally recognized unit and must at the time of appointment be a member of the National Guard. He must also, at the time of admission on 1 July 1950, be an enlisted man of the National Guard of a Federally recognized unit and must have served as an enlisted man in the National Guard not less than one year. These requirements are statutory and cannot be waived or modified, but it is not essential that the service be continuous so that former service in the National Guard may be counted in determining an applicant's eligibility. Service with a National Guard organization prior to its recognition by the Federal Government may be considered, the date of enlistment of the soldier governing and not that of the recognition of the unit.
- g. Desire for Service. The candidate must express a strong desire to enter the United States Military Academy and to become a commissioned officer of the Regular Army. If he is entitled to admission, he will be authorized by the Department of the Army to report to the Superintendent at West Point, upon being discharged by the appropriate National Guard authorities, to take oath as a cadet, required by law, which will obligate him to serve for a period of eight years unless sooner discharged by competent authority.
- h. Physical Qualifications. The candidate should meet the physical requirements for entrance to the United States Military Academy as outlined in AR 40-100 and AR 40-105. Hearing must be normal (15/15) in each ear for the whispered voice and the ears must be free from acute or chronic disease. Vision as determined by the visual test types (without a cycloplegic) must not fall below 20/30 in either eye without glasses, correctible with glasses to 20/20 in each eye, when no organic disease in either eye exists. The requirements of the following tables of physical proportions are for growing youths and are for guidance in connection with the other data of the examination; mere fulfillment of the requirements of the standard tables does not determine eligibility.

Height	Weight		Minimum Chest Measurement at Expiration
	Minimum	Maximum
Inches	Pounds	Pounds	Inches
66	120	170	30.50
67	124	175	30.50
68	128	180	31.00
69	132	185	31.50
70	136	190	32.00
71	140	195	32.00
72	144	201	32.50
73	148	208	32.50
74	152	214	33.00
75	156	220	33.00
76	160	226	33.50

3. Regular Entrance Examinations. Candidates selected in accordance with the above will be authorized by the Department of the Army to report for the regular entrance examination on 7 March 1950 and the appointments available on 1 July 1950 will be awarded to the qualified candidates in the order of merit established at that examination which is competitive among all National Guard candidates. In view of the competitive feature involved, failure for any cause to report for the examination at the time and place designated will vacate the appointment.

4. Enlisted men of the North Carolina National Guard organizations who believe they can meet the above requirements and desire to take the preliminary competitive examination in order to become eligible for appointment to compete in regular entrance examination on 7 March 1950, should advise this office, through channels, at the earliest practicable date. The Adjutant General

1 March 1948

Honorable Gordon Gray
Assistant Secretary of the Army
Chairman, Committee on Civilian Components
Office of the Secretary of Defense
Washington, D. C.

My dear Sir:

Reference is made to your letter of 9 January 1948, addressed to Governor Cherry, of this State, which letter the Governor advised you under date of 12 January that he was submitting to my office. I delayed answering the letter in an effort to secure the answers to the first four questions propounded in the questionnaire (inclosure (a) to your letter), which necessitated going into back records.

Attached is submitted answers to the questions you propounded in your questionnaire; the answers to the first four questions will be noted in Appendix I. Other questions are answered in attached memorandum, Subject: "Answers to questions propounded by the Assistant Secretary of the Army, Chairman, Committee on Civilian Components."

If I may suggest, based upon my fifty odd years' experience in the National Guard, the last 27 years of which I have served as The Adjutant General of this State, the present set up of the National Guard as the second component of the Army of the United States, as first line troops, subject to call in any emergency by the President for mobilization jointly with the Regular service, is the most satisfactory and efficient method this country could devise in maintaining a basic force for use in case of National emergency.

Should this country decide to maintain a large standing Army in peace time, it could be possible to eliminate the National Guard, but in the thought that this Nation will not normally maintain a standing Army permanently of between 500,000 and possibly 750,000, the National Guard is an organized and trained force equipped and ready to take the field. It is far less expensive to maintain than is the Regular service and though its officers may not be as educated, technically, in military matters as are the officers of the Regular service, they are men of business affairs accustomed to settling matters of business with the public, and have largely gained a military education through that practical experience. The National Guard, having a dual status as a State protective force under the Governor of the State in peace time, and subject to call of the President as a National force in case of National emergency, is the answer to two very important phases of the protection of this country. Should the thought which has been suggested, of amalgamating the National Guard and Reserves as a more or less Continental Army or Reserve, be made effective, it would, in my judgment, be far more expensive to the Federal Government, and the training less effective, and it would also create additional burdens upon the states which would be called upon to maintain a State protective force of its own for State emergencies. Under such conditions, that military spirit throughout the communities of a state as has existed over the years, due largely to the spirit of the National Guard within these states, would be largely destroyed.

I trust the answers to the questionnaire presented the Governor may be of some value to you.

With assurance of my regards and all good wishes, I am

Sincerely,

J. VAN B. METTS,

The Adjutant General.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT
RALEIGH

SUBJECT: Answers to questions propounded by the Assistant Secretary of the Army, Chairman, Committee on Civilian Components.

1. The State missions on which the National Guard of your State has been employed in the last 30 years?
Reference Appendix I, attached hereto
2. The nature of the missions performed
Reference Appendix I, attached hereto
3. Strength of the forces employed?
Reference Appendix I attached hereto
4. Duration of the employment?
Reference Appendix I, attached hereto
5. Was the training of the troops employed appropriate to the duty expected and performed?
Yes
6. Was the armament appropriate
Yes, infantry weapons found to be more effective
7. Would more specialized troops have reduced the number required, and would such specialization have resulted in a better job?
No
8. Is the present allotted strength of the National Guard greater or less than your State requirements?
Greater
9. Does your State have any requirements for a State controlled Combat Air element of the National Guard?
Of use to State in cases of flood, locating escaped prisoners or culprits in wooded areas, and supplying emergency supplies, medical drugs and equipment in isolated areas.
10. What is the attitude of your State towards a Naval Militia?
Would be glad to have provided similar to old Naval Militia under State control with dual status similar to National Guard.
11. What number of troops would the State wish to retain as a home defense force in case of a national emergency with only air threat apparent; with air and airborne threat apparent?
 - a. 3000
 - b. 5000
12. What are your other conceptions of the local defense missions of a State force and its organization and training?
Sabotage, fifth-column activities, strikes, mob violence, protection against enemy landings on coast, airborne threats or air attacks.

13. What forces would you anticipate to be necessary to provide protection against sabotage, fifth-column activities, and possible other attacks on industry, communications, and transportation?

14. Is present organization, training and armament appropriate to the missions covered in 11, 12 and 13; and should these forces be State or Federal?

Yes, normally under State control; in enemy activities, under Federal control.

15. How was your State or home guard employed during the past war? Give type and number of troops? On what missions?

a. North Carolina State Guard—strength 2500. Alerted for immediate call in case of sabotage, or other industrial disturbances. Plans, proposed by the Internal Security Officer, Headquarters, Ft. Bragg, North Carolina, in consultation with the State Adjutant General, were on file in the State Adjutant General's Department for use of State Guard in case of sabotage affecting plants on Government or war work; plans for use of State Guard in case of enemy attack from sea or air until Federal troops may arrive at scene of trouble. The State Guard, under general directions of AUS officers, would continue in such missions as assigned.

b. State Guard organized as infantry.

c. No serious emergencies arose, hence not ordered out.

16. What was its strength, and was its strength appropriate? Were training and armament appropriate?

Strength 2500. As matters developed, strength proved sufficient, but this condition would hardly exist in a future war. Training and armament appropriate.

17. From your experience in training National Guard Troops, is it possible to increase the number of hours which they currently devote to training? Armory training? Field training?

a. No

b. No

c. No

18. If increase in field training is indicated, would business and industry support the necessity of keeping men away from their jobs for a longer period than the present two weeks each year?

Doubtful, probably no.

19. Is the top business and professional leadership in your State interested in civilian components?

Yes, generally.

20. Having in mind both the usual State missions of the National Guard and possible State local defense requirements, what apportionment of costs do you feel should be made as between State and Federal Government?

It is impracticable to suggest any apportionment of cost between the State and Federal Government since the National Guard has a dual status. There is no basis on which to estimate any cost to the State in the purchase of uniforms, blankets, shoes, mess equipment, and arms should the dual status of the National Guard be terminated. As a Federal force the value of the Guard to the Federal Government is important and the maintenance of the guard is so far less expense to the government than the maintenance of an equal size Regular Army that there is no comparison. The apportionment in effect at this time, in accordance with the National Defense Act and Department of the Army regulations based thereon, appears to be sound. It is considered that the National Guard organized, equipped and trained is of that importance to our National Defense as to warrant Federal expenditures as now provided. The National Guard has proved its value both in training recruits and under battle conditions in both World War I and II.

21. What proportion of your present accepted National Guard strength do you feel can be recruited on a purely voluntary basis?

22. From your experience, both prior to and since the war, what is the percentage of re-enlistment turn-over among the National Guard troops?

50 %
